AMERICA AND BRITAIN PROMISE GREAT OFFENSIVE

THINK MILLIONS SOON WILL OPEN 'SECOND FRONT'

United Nations Are Cheered By Statement Of Roosevelt, Churchill

APPLAUDED GENERALLY BY MEMBERS OF CONGRESS

Several Other Phases Of War Situation Are Discussed

WASHINGTON, June 27.—President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill today jointly promised a stroke at Germany which will divert Nazi troops from the Russian front and said the outlook for victory had improved the last six months.

With Churchill safely back in London, they issued a statement which in addition called transportation the "major problem" of the United Nations. But it noted that while the U.S. toll in the Atlantic was heavy, ship production was increasing and said new steps "diverting" operations were planned by the British and American navies.

The statement made no specific mention of a "second front," but nevertheless included a paragraph which evoked an intensive whirl of speculation on that subject.

"While exact plans, for obvious reasons, cannot be disclosed," the statement said, "it can be said that the coming operations which were discussed in detail at our Washington conference between ourselves and our respective military advisors, will divert German strength from the attack on Russia."

Many observers concluded that the millions of American and English troops mobilized in the British Isles were to be thrown into an invasion of the Nazi-held continent. Since the project had reached the stage of discussion in detail, some suggested that the day of attack might be very near.

Others cautioned, however, against jumping to conclusions and advanced the theory that the "coming operations" might be confined to intensified mass air attacks upon German cities, such as have spread havoc in London, Cologne and Bremen. Nevertheless, it was recalled that the White House said when Churchill arrived.

On the 27th, Churchill said that his third meeting with President Roosevelt to find his personal political situation seriously challenged by his critics but also new hope for United Nations' offensive operations against Germany.

Not only did he have to implement, from the British side, the plan for creating a second front against Adolf Hitler. From the minute he stepped from his transatlantic plane, which he piloted part of the time, he busied himself in preparing for a debate in the house of commons, where his government's direction of the war is being questioned by a motion denying confidence in his leadership.

Grimacing and cheerful, he began a series of conferences with members of his war cabinet and his party leaders. Part of his task of rebuilding British confidence—severely shaken by the Ljapunov debacle—had already been achieved by his and President Roosevelt's simultaneous announcement from London and Washington of "coming operations" to divert the weight of the German attack against Russia.

A further statement from the British Press association lent added support. It said that air raids by American and British planes will be preliminary to a second land front in Europe.

The prime minister looked bronzed and well when his train arrived in London. He was greeted warmly by his wife and daughter, Mary, as well as by a crowd of British and United Nations' personalities.

"Welcome home, Winston," the crowd cheered as he emerged from his train. "We are all glad to see you."

Russians Smash Many Attacks By Nazis

Heavy German Blows Produce Crises For Britain And Russia

Interpretation By Kirke L. Simpson

Though Hitler's summer offensive in the east apparently has not yet been launched, preliminary Axis thrusts in Egypt and the Ukraine already have produced a twin crisis for his British and Russian opponents.

Both jaws of a vast Axis pincer movement eastward have gnawed their way forward dangerously at an uncounted cost in life and battle wreckage.

In Egypt, battered British imperialists with the bitter taste of defeat in their mouths have mustered for a last-ditch stand perilously close to their vital Alexandria naval base. In southern Russia an ominous deed has been made in Marshal Timoshenko's communication services east of Kharkov.

Yet in Washington a confident note is sounded. And in the joint Roosevelt-Churchill statement there is the definite promise of coming operations which will divert German strength from the attack on Russia.

Cheering, too, is the resumption of British air pounding at Germany and reliable reports that United States air units are laying the groundwork for American participation in such mass raids.

The creation of an American zone of operations in Europe suggests that joint Anglo-American second front moves are a near, not remote, possibility. Naturally no hint of their nature.

CHURCHILL WILL ANSWER CRITICS

Finds His Personal Political Situation Seriously Challenged

LONDON, June 27.—Winston Churchill came home today from his third meeting with President Roosevelt to find his personal political situation seriously challenged by his critics but also new hope for United Nations' offensive operations against Germany.

Not only did he have to implement, from the British side, the plan for creating a second front against Adolf Hitler. From the minute he stepped from his transatlantic plane, which he piloted part of the time, he busied himself in preparing for a debate in the house of commons, where his government's direction of the war is being questioned by a motion denying confidence in his leadership.

GOVERNOR SAYS 3 MILLIONAIRES BLOCKED TAXES

Blames Maestri, Helis And Perez For Defeat Of Sales Levy

STILL TIME ENOUGH LEFT TO VOTE SUMS, HE STATES

Several Alternative Proposals Remain For Legislators' Consideration

BATON ROUGE, La., June 27.—(AP)—Governor Sam Jones today laid blame for failure in the legislature of his proposed revenue program to three "millionaires" including Mayor Robert S. Maestri of New Orleans, but said a solution still can be reached with "a little cooperation from the opposition."

Jones said responsibility for the "approaching calamity" brought on by defeat of his proposed two percent retail sales tax rests "squarely on the shoulders of the three millionaires" whom he named as Mayor Maestri, William Helis, a leading Louisiana oil magnate and friend of Maestri, and District Attorney Leander H. Perez of Plaquemine parish.

Terminating talk of a special legislative session as mere "claptrap," Governor Jones asserted there is plenty of time remaining at the present regular session of the legislature having two weeks more to meet to enact a proper revenue program during the war period.

"It is common knowledge that numerous special sessions of only five days have been held in the past," Jones commented. "We have more than twice that time left in the present session. All that is needed is a little cooperation from the opposition. If this cooperation is not forthcoming there will be hungry people, lack of hospitalization, salary cuts for the teachers, reduced pensions for the old, financial problems for the par-

ASKS FOR BOATS TO BATTLE SUBS

Navy Wants 1,000 Additional Craft For Anti-Submarine Work

WASHINGTON, June 27.—(AP)—In a move to put a great fleet of small boats into the war against submarines off the Atlantic and Gulf coasts, the navy called today for all owners of seagoing craft to volunteer the services of themselves and their vessels.

It was hoped, an announcement said, that 1,000 additional small boats might join the anti-submarine patrols being conducted by 1,200 craft.

The navy said "requirements have been relaxed" to qualify additional boats, but gave no details as to what the new requirements would be.

It was indicated, however, that the sole test would be whether, in the opinion of officers conducting the anti-submarine warfare, the boat in question could be useful.

Saying that Vice-Admiral R. R. Waesche, commandant of the coast guard, desired an organization of yachtsmen as coast guard reserve officers to assist in operation of these craft, the navy announced:

F. B. I. Captures 8 Nazi Saboteurs Landed By U-Boat

Germans Fully Supplied With Equipment For Wrecking Factories

NEW YORK, June 27.—(AP)—German submarines have boldly landed highly-skilled saboteurs on American shores with full equipment for wrecking war factories, J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the F. B. I., announced tonight.

Eight men have been caught, Hoover said, and their explosives seized. Two groups of four men each were caught.

Four men were put ashore on Long Island June 13 and the others near Jacksonville, Fla., three days later, Hoover said.

The four who reached Amagansett Beach, Long Island, came in a rubber boat from a submarine about 300 yards offshore, Hoover said. They changed into American civilian clothes on the beach, and buried loads of TNT with time-clock fuses in the sand.

U. S. Preparing At Secret Base To Bomb Germany

Will Work With R. A. F. Soon In Mass Air Attacks On Nazis

LONDON, June 27.—(AP)—A large vanguard of the United States army air corps is established in the British Isles and is making preparations at a secret base to bomb Germany soon in mass attacks coordinated with those of the Royal Air Force. This was learned today from reliable informants who refused to be quoted by name.

How far the preparations have advanced and the actual size of American aerial units were military secrets, but authoritative sources said the men were already deployed to join the great assaults such as those on Bremen, Cologne, Essen, Rostock, Luebeck and other German industrial or shipping centers.

It was not disclosed whether a sufficient number of planes had been amassed for an all-American springing force, but as long ago as April 21 it was announced that bombers for use of United States airmen in wing to wing attacks with the R. A. F. were being ferried across the Atlantic.

The spoke of destruction still curled from the ruins of the great submarine base of Bremen today after the R. A. F.'s 1,000-bomber raid of two nights ago, but the great machines which carried millions of pounds of concentrated fury to Germany were grounded for the most part overnight awaiting better weather. Fighter aircraft however, swept widely over occupied territories, mining shipping lanes and attacking vessels and railway facilities, the air ministry said.

In retaliation for Bremen, German bombers raided Norwich in East Ang-

SEVASTOPOL AND KHARKOV AREAS HOLDING FIRMLY

50,000 Germans Are Reported Killed In One Section In 23 Days

KNIVES AND BAYONETS ARE USED IN BITTER FIGHTING

Depletion Of Enemy Manpower Is Said To Be Evident At Front

MOSCOW, June 28 (Sunday).—(AP)—The valiant defenders of Sevastopol smashed attack after attack by storming Nazi forces which tried without success to advance all day yesterday in bitter fighting over stacks of their Axis dead, the Russians reported early today.

The siege of the Crimean port roared into its 24th day with no indication of a German break into the vast defenses of Sevastopol.

On the Kharkov front it was the same story, military dispatches said. There Marshal Timoshenko's forces were credited with halting the eight-day-old German drive, and in one sector threw the Germans back in slashing tank counter-attacks.

The Germans were unable to make any headway whatever, the front line accounts said, despite the extravagant use of massed air attacks in an effort to enlarge their gains.

These accounts were pointed up by the midnight communique, which told of the continued repulse of the Germans before Sevastopol and added there had been no other changes yesterday anywhere on the long front.

On the battle for Sevastopol, it said: "Our troops repelled several enemy attacks on the Sevastopol sector and inflicted heavy losses on the enemy."

The Soviet air force was credited with inflicting "devastating blows" upon the Germans on the Kharkov front in two days, the communique said.

ATTEMPTED PARISH PRISON BREAK FRUSTRATED BY NEGRO TRUSTEES

Four youthful prisoners found guilty of assaulting Jailer L. V. Tarver June 20 in an attempt to break jail were sentenced to two years in jail by Judge J. T. Shell in district court Friday.

They were J. J. Priest, 18, alias "Pinky O'Kelly," Dallas; Homer Odell, 17, alias "Bob Clay," Dallas; Ed Dow, Jr., 24, Alexandria; and Tommy Doolin, 19, Monroe.

The attempted break was made last Saturday at 5:45 p. m. when Mr. Tarver unlocked the cell so that supper could be served. As he did so, the four, armed with sections of mop handles and weapons contrived from spoons sharpened on the concrete floor, rushed him and wrested the jail keys from him.

French Eager For Invasion By Americans

EDITOR'S NOTE: Roy Porter, Associated Press foreign correspondent, returned to the United States last November after more than four years covering the news in France. In the accompanying article he draws on his knowledge of the situation in France to interpret the results of a possible German attempt to extend the occupied zone to include the entire country.

NEW YORK, June 27.—(AP)—If Adolf Hitler moves to occupy all France, a step which dispatches from London indicate he is considering—the German fuhrer may meet one of the first major setbacks he has encountered in dealing with the conquered peoples of Europe.

For the minute that Hitler pushes into the unoccupied third of France he will automatically set off a blaze of fireworks that can well turn into a French revolution.

It is exactly what the French have been waiting for—just as they have been waiting for an announcement from Washington that there is to be a "second front" established in western Europe.

The most recent word from occupied France—which is not yet outdated—is that there is rebellion and antagonism brewing in the territory. Obviously, the French people have no guns with which to shoot—but they are ready to shoot the instant anyone can bring them the guns.

"We cannot fight machine guns with pitchforks," one Frenchman said to me only a few days ago. "But we can."

MARINES SWARM IN FAR PACIFIC

Big Force Of United States Leathernecks Reaches Port

ATLANTA, June 27.—(AP)—This war's first major expeditionary force of United States marines has landed at a south Pacific "jumping off place," apparently equipped to spearhead any United Nations offensive in that area of war.

The far-off arrival of "transports swarming with marines" was revealed here today by Major Meigs O. Frost, southern public relations chief for the marine corps.

Accompanying the announcement that the convoy carried the marines' biggest overseas contingent of the war was the first story to be released as written by one of the marines' own war correspondents assigned to combat forces.

The story told merely of the human side of life aboard the transports during the south seas voyage from an untraveled American port to the undisclosed destination, but contained clear implications of the job ahead of the task force, which apparently numbered in the thousands.

With a number of southern leathernecks known to have been included, first official advice regarding the force was relayed here from Washington by Brigadier-General Robert L. Deming, marine headquarters public relations director, in line with an effort to bring marine news close to home.

The anonymous sergeant correspondent related how some of the marines enjoyed the cool tropical nights by "the far-off arrival of 'transports swarming with marines' was revealed here today by Major Meigs O. Frost, southern public relations chief for the marine corps."

PLAN TO DIVERT NAZI STRENGTH FROM RUSSIANS

Roosevelt And Churchill Say Outlook For Victory Brighter

POWERFUL AXIS FORCE IS PUSHED CLOSE TO MATRUH

Invaders Only 165 Miles From Vital Naval Base At Alexandria

By Richard MacMurray (Associated Press Staff Editor)

The United States and Britain promised a great offensive that "will divert German strength from the attack on Russia" yesterday at a time when the great Soviet armies had halted furious Nazi drives near Kharkov and Sevastopol and the British sparred inconclusively with the Axis in the opening round of the battle for Egypt.

A highly confident statement issued jointly by President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill told of "coming operations"—the nature and timing of which were kept secret to jangle Hitler's tortured nerves—and concluded:

"There is no doubt in their minds that the over-all picture is more favorable to victory than it was either in August or December of last year."

The hour of attack seemed near, perhaps on a second front in Europe. With the United States producing 4,000 planes and 1,500 tanks a month, the statement said the production of munitions "in the whole an optimistic picture."

It pointed out the great bottleneck of shipping as "the major problem of the United Nations." Since the United States entered the war, more than 310 ships have been sunk off our east coast and nearby waters alone.

After a week of melancholy news, the stirring pronouncement was a needed tonic because titanic battles of decision either were started or imminent.

A powerful Axis army of three mechanized divisions and infantry drew up to within 15 miles of Matruh on Egypt's desolate sands and appeared ready to strike vigorously at any moment to shatter the badly beaten British Eighth army, once more built up to full strength despite

ASKS BIG CUT IN HOSPITAL MONEY

Goff Proposes To Cut Appropriation At Orleans $1,500,000

BATON ROUGE, La., June 27.—(AP)—A proposal that the annual appropriation for the New Orleans charity hospital be reduced by $1,500,000 per year was made today before the senate finance committee considering the general appropriations bill.

Action on the proposal by Senator A. K. Goff, Ruston, was postponed until the committee's meeting tomorrow.

"I move that we turn over operation of the New Orleans charity hospital to the city," said Senator Pat Jumeau, Lafayette. The hospital has sums of $419,460 for 1942-43 and $3,980,216 for 1943-44 listed in the appropriations bill.

"I wouldn't go that far," Goff said, "but I do make a motion that the appropriations for the hospital be reduced by $1,500,000 a year."

Affected Chairman Lionel Ott of New Orleans, presiding in the absence of Chairman Joe T. Cawthon of Mansfield, said the procedure would be to vote on individual appropriations tomorrow. Goff withdrew his suggestion until then. Cawthon and other anti-administration members were absent.

JAP U-BOAT SUNK BY BRITISH LINER

LONDON, June 28 (Sunday).—(AP)—The admiralty reported today that the 8,719-ton liner Tongararo destroyed a Japanese submarine which it encountered on a route home to Britain with a cargo of Australian meat and wool.

The Tongararo sighted the submarine seven miles ahead and soon the raider opened fire. Captain B. Evans maneuvered his ship away from the line of fire and ordered the gun crews to "go to it."

The liner and sub exchanged fire in a hot running battle and the merchantman's fourth shell landed squarely on the target.

A huge column of smoke and spray was thrown up. When it cleared, the Japanese submarine had disappeared. The entire action was over in ten minutes.

Half an hour later a heavy explosion was heard which jolted the Tongararo fore and aft. The blast was believed to be the last of the sunken submarine—probably its magazine exploding.

THINK MILLIONS TO OPEN FRONT

that it would be justifiable to speculate that the second front would be discussed.

The statement, which was enthusiastically applauded by most members of congress, went also into numerous other phases of the war situation. Leaders, it said, covered "very fully all the major problems of the conflict, took full cognizance of our disadvantages as well as our advantages," and did not "underrate" the task ahead.

"We have conducted our conferences with the full knowledge of the power and resourcefulness of our enemies," it said.

A survey of the munitions production situation, it said, gave "on the whole an optimistic picture." Monthly output has not yet reached its planned maximum rate "but is fast approaching it on schedule." (Mr. Roosevelt announced yesterday that May production of the United States alone included 4,000 planes, 1,500 tanks, 2,000 artillery pieces and 100,000 machine guns and sub-machine guns.)

"Because of the wide extension of the war to all parts of the world, transportation of the fighting forces, together with the transportation of munitions of war and supplies, still constitutes the major problem of the United Nations," the statement continued.

"While submarine warfare on the part of the Axis continues to take heavy toll of cargo ships, the actual production of new tonnage is greatly increasing month by month. It is hoped that as a result of the steps planned at this conference, the respective navies will further reduce the toll of merchant shipping."

Never before, the war leaders added, have the United Nations "been in such hearty and detailed agreement on plans for winning the war as they are today."

With this they combined an assurance that they "recognize and applaud the Russian resistance to the main attack being made by Germany and we rejoice in the magnificent resistance of the Chinese arms." They and their advisors, they said, went thoroughly into the question of methods of relieving China and striking at the Japanese.

The prime minister and the president, the statement said in conclusion, "have met twice before, in August, 1941, and again in December, 1941. There is no doubt in their minds that the over-all picture is more favorable to victory than it was in either August or December of last year."

In congress the joint statement received much applause.

Senator Connally, Democrat, Texas, chairman of the foreign relations committee, said he felt certain "that the president and Mr. Churchill are planning to take steps which will make our military and naval resources most effective while aiding the gallant and heroic Russian armies."

Senator Truman, Democrat, Missouri, head of the defense investigating committee, said he agreed that production was fast approaching its scheduled level and he was much impressed by the assertion that victory was more nearly assured now than six months ago.

Senator Smith, Democrat, South Carolina, said he hoped the statement meant that "the United Nations will concentrate their efforts on one strong front."

Senator Ellender, Democrat, Louisiana, who has criticized the massing of troops in Great Britain, said he was glad to note that "it is apparent the 4,000,000 troops in England will probably see active service." He said he hoped "there will be no more compromise decisions in the war based on political issues."

"Everything possible must be done to help Russia, as it is necessary to keep Russia going to shorten the war," said Representative Martin, Republican, Massachusetts, the Republican floor leader.

"The plans to divert Germany from an attack on Russia are sound and far-reaching and will shortly place the offensive in this war in the hands of the United Nations," said Representative McCormack, Democrat, Massachusetts, the Democratic leader. "Hitler can start wondering now where this war is going to break out next."

CARRIER BOYS ENJOY ANNUAL OUTING

Carrier salesmen and other employees of the circulation department of the News-Star-World enjoyed their annual summer barbecue at Bernstein park. Guests were carrier boys, street salesmen, office management and road agents of the two newspapers. Here is a group of the boys as they posed for their "official" picture at the barbecue picnic.

F. B. I. SEIZES NAZI SABOTEURS

placed against the eight prisoners, according to Hoover.

Hoover released pictures of the men and of the equipment and explosives they brought ashore. One Nazi uniform cap was also included in the evidence collected by the F. B. I.

Hoover said the men had supplies of explosives for a two-year sabotage campaign against American war objectives, including TNT, fuses and time clocks for delayed action bombs, and small black bombs camouflaged to look like large pieces of coal.

Under questioning by F. B. I. men, Hoover said, the agents listed war plants, waterways, railroads and bridges which were marked for destruction.

These included the Aluminum Corporation of America's plants at Alcoa, Tenn., Massena, N. Y., and East St. Louis, Ill.; The Cryolite plant at Philadelphia, manufacturing light metals; the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad in industrial areas; Hell Gate bridge, New York City; the Pennsylvania railroad terminal at Newark, N. J., and all bridges on which transportation was carried on the New York area.

Other objectives, Hoover said, were the inland waterways systems, a series of canal locks on the Ohio river near Cincinnati, the New York City water supply system, conduits in Westchester county, hydro-electric plants at Niagara falls, and railroad tracks on the famous horseshoe curve near Altoona, Pennsylvania.

Hoover added they planned to plant bombs in locker rooms at railroad stations and in department stores to create panic and break down civilian morale.

The F. B. I. found American currency totaling nearly $150,000, with which the agents were to bribe and pay off assistants, in secret compartments in traveling cases carried by the men.

Hoover said they were all English-speaking men, who had formerly been employed in the United States. Many were former German-American band members, he declared, and several between 1939 and 1941 had been returned to Germany because of their activity in the band.

The men were trained near Berlin in a special sabotage training school, Hoover said, and were taught the handling of all kinds of industrial equipment. They were taken to industrial areas, where they were taught the best way of destroying or putting out of commission important devices in war plants.

Hoover said the first group had $30,000 for "bribery and pay offs" and the second group carried $38,942.61 for the same purposes.

The explosives removed by the F. B. I. from the German caches on the beaches, Hoover asserted, were "of the most exceptional types" and each was apparently designed for a special job of destruction. F. B. I. experts are studying the explosives, he said.

All the men admitted participation in a carefully-detailed plan of sabotage, Hoover declared.

The F. B. I. director said the coast guard has intensified precautions in an effort to prevent similar attempts to land Nazi saboteurs on American coasts in the future.

Partial biographies of the men follow:

Dasch, alias George John Davis, who served in the German army in the World War, entered the United States in 1922 and had worked as a waiter at various times in New York, Hollywood, Calif., and in Florida. He left New York for San Francisco, and thence to Berlin, in March 1941, in accordance with arrangements made

FRENCH EAGER FOR INVASION

are prepared and waiting; just bring us some weapons."

The things the French have not forgotten are these:

The slaughter of more than 200,000 civilians in the refugee-clogged roads from the northern battlefronts during May and June of 1940.

The "passive" occupation of two-thirds of the country and the rifling of French economy by the Germans, becoming off in inflation francs, printed at will on German presses.

At Sevastopol, the bloody battle raged on its 23rd day and the German gains were measured in yards. Knives, bayonets and pistols were used in the intense personal fighting. Already 50,000 Germans had been killed or wounded in the current siege.

The Sevastopol defenders "repelled several enemy attacks" and "inflicted heavy losses," the Russian midnight communiqué said. "No changes took place on other sectors of the front."

At Hitler's back, the great submarine base of Bremen still smoldered in fires set two days ago by a thousand British bombers. In the British isles, the United States army air corps was preparing to join the R. A. F. in the mass raids.

The great British bombers stayed home Friday night in nasty weather, but light craft mined enemy waters, attacked shipping and pounded away at the overtaxed German railways. So great was the German transportation crisis that the British radio reported Hitler had appointed a "commissioner of shipping" to take the strain off his communications.

The United States air force already had joined battle with the Axis in North Africa, the Balkans and the Mediterranean. Two weeks ago, 15 great multi-motored bombers struck the Ploesti oil fields of Rumania which supply oil for the German machines.

The Roosevelt-Churchill statement was issued after two weeks of conferences in this country and after Mr. Churchill had returned to England to face an angry parliament and a country disillusioned by the North African defeat. There was little doubt, however, that the silver-tongued Churchill would maintain his leadership of Britain in the face of a back bench motion of censure. For if Churchill went, who was to succeed him?

The statement said "we rejoice in the magnificent resistance of the Chinese people." Detailed discussions were held with our military advisors on methods to be adopted against Japan and the relief of China."

The Japanese captured Lishui, the last important air base in China's eastern province of Kiangsi and retook Kweiki, in Kiangsi province, in their drive to conquer the Chekiang-Kwangsi railway, a gap between the coordinated Japanese invasion columns approaching each other from the east and west was thus narrowed to about 50 miles.

Allied airmen met 18 Japanese planes flying from Moresby northeast of Australia and shot down six to ten of them. A British liner sank a Japanese submarine between Australia and Britain.

These were minor blips at the Axis strength, and minor preludes of the great blood bath promised by Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill to wipe the world clean of Hitler, Hirohito and Mussolini and all the terror, deceit and lawlessness they stand for.

said, 23 Nazi planes were shot down, 46 tanks and 117 trucks destroyed and 300 Germans killed by Russian airmen.

The British radio, relaying Moscow accounts, said that in a violent flare-up of aerial warfare all up and down the front Soviet pilots were "breaking up" after raid upon Red army positions.

The BBC, heard in New York by CBS, quoted one correspondent as saying that "for the moment at least it looks as if further developments in the fighting may depend on which side can get air superiority first."

In "exceptionally fierce" fighting, the eight-day Ukraine offensive of the Germans was brought to a halt east of Kupansk, 50 miles southeast of Kharkov, said Pravda accounts. Thirty-one air battles were fought in a single day and 51 German planes were wrecked in them, said the newspaper's correspondent.

Before Sevastopol, the Crimea base of the Red fleet which has been under violent assault for 23 days, the Russians asserted the Germans had expended the stupendous total of 50 trainloads of explosives—bombs, shells and mines—in a "title effort to break open the city's defenses."

Their latest gains, made by reserves brought up after a lull in which manpower and munitions were replenished, were said, however, to have resulted in only a few dozen yards of plowed-up ground in two places in the northeast sector.

Even in one of these places, it was said, the Germans had been partly thrown out.

"The heroism of the Sevastopol garrison, its unwavering staunchness and devotion to duty stand out with utter clarity," said a Pravda dispatch from the city.

Bitter fights with knife, bayonet and pistol often have raged for hours between Russians and Germans in a single trench, the correspondent said.

The graves of thousands of Germans dot the hillsides where 50,000 of them its severe losses in men and material during the retreat from Libya.

The battle, 115 miles within Egypt and 185 miles from the vital naval base at Alexandria, was imminent and the British placed great reliance on its air force to shatter the enemy and starve him by disrupting his communications lines. By night and day, the R. A. F. attacked the Axis ground troops. Marshal Rommel, reaching ever farther from his bases, defeating what he believed his pace but no one believed the crucial battle would be long delayed.

In threatened Cairo, a dispatch said "United States uniforms are appearing in greater numbers than ever in the middle east, but they are worn mainly by service troops."

The German casualties of 50,000 for this offensive already exceeded the losses, estimated at 45,000, in two previous drives on Sevastopol in November and December.

Lack of sufficient reserves was said to have forced the Germans to limit their action to artillery duels at some points.

Although the Germans' Ukraine offensive had cost them hugely, Soviet accounts admitted that the invaders were still able to gain local superiority in that sector by massing large forces on narrow fronts. These were reported probing for soft spots.

The Soviet withdrawal from Kupansk was termed orderly and from new positions the Russians were said to be wearing down enemy tanks and infantry.

Chastly casualties had been inflicted on the Germans, but still they were able to mass huge concentrations in some sectors. The Germans appeared to be probing for weak spots.

At Sevastopol, the bloody battle raged on its 23rd day and the German gains were measured in yards. Knives, bayonets and pistols were used in the intense personal fighting. Already 50,000 Germans had been killed or wounded in the current siege.

The Sevastopol defenders "repelled several enemy attacks" and "inflicted heavy losses," the Russian midnight communiqué said. "No changes took place on other sectors of the front."

At Hitler's back, the great submarine base of Bremen still smoldered in fires set two days ago by a thousand British bombers. In the British isles, the United States army air corps was preparing to join the R. A. F. in the mass raids.

The great British bombers stayed home Friday night in nasty weather, but light craft mined enemy waters, attacked shipping and pounded away at the overtaxed German railways. So great was the German transportation crisis that the British radio reported Hitler had appointed a "commissioner of shipping" to take the strain off his communications.

The United States air force already had joined battle with the Axis in North Africa, the Balkans and the Mediterranean. Two weeks ago, 15 great multi-motored bombers struck the Ploesti oil fields of Rumania which supply oil for the German machines.

The Roosevelt-Churchill statement was issued after two weeks of conferences in this country and after Mr. Churchill had returned to England to face an angry parliament and a country disillusioned by the North African defeat. There was little doubt, however, that the silver-tongued Churchill would maintain his leadership of Britain in the face of a back bench motion of censure. For if Churchill went, who was to succeed him?

The statement said "we rejoice in the magnificent resistance of the Chinese people." Detailed discussions were held with our military advisors on methods to be adopted against Japan and the relief of China."

The Japanese captured Lishui, the last important air base in China's eastern province of Kiangsi and retook Kweiki, in Kiangsi province, in their drive to conquer the Chekiang-Kwangsi railway, a gap between the coordinated Japanese invasion columns approaching each other from the east and west was thus narrowed to about 50 miles.

Allied airmen met 18 Japanese planes flying from Moresby northeast of Australia and shot down six to ten of them. A British liner sank a Japanese submarine between Australia and Britain.

These were minor blips at the Axis strength, and minor preludes of the great blood bath promised by Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill to wipe the world clean of Hitler, Hirohito and Mussolini and all the terror, deceit and lawlessness they stand for.

FOUR SENTENCED IN JAIL ATTACK

"Two-Heads" still grins broadly when he recalls how he locked one of the prisoners into the large garbage can and left him there, feet widely pawing the air, as he turned to take on another of the prisoners, freeing "Preacher" to go for the pistol.

"I intend to intercede on the grutes' behalf in an endeavor to get their sentences reduced for their assistance in stopping the four," Sheriff Milton Coverdale said.

The two-year sentence which Judge Shell imposed for the conspiracy to break jail will not run concurrently with the other sentences that the four will serve. Odell and Priest were serving 12 months for larceny at the time of the attempt; Low was awaiting sentence on two counts of giving checks on insufficient funds; and Doubin was awaiting sentence for larceny. Both Doubin and Priest pleaded guilty in district court Friday, and, in addition to the two-year sentence, Dow received six months in jail on each charge, and Doubin received from 8 to 24 months in the state penitentiary.

Odell was the only one of the four without a previous criminal record. Dow was being investigated in connection with violating a federal parole. He was an ex-convict from the federal penitentiary in Atlanta, Ga., where he had served a term for impersonating a federal officer, records revealed. In Alexandria he had been acquitted on a charge of manslaughter.

Priest had deserted several times from the army and was being investigated by federal authorities in connection with a Dallas auto theft, in which Odell was also believed involved, officers said.

Doubin was released from the Louisiana State penitentiary April 5 after serving a sentence for embezzlement.

DEATHS

CAPPO FUNERAL

The funeral of Joe Cappo, 68, of 618 Layton avenue, who died Friday in a Monroe hospital, will be held at St. Matthew's Catholic church, this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock with Mgr. N. F. Vandegard officiating.

Interment, directed by the Mulhearn Funeral Home, will be in the Catholic Cemetery.

Mr. Cappo leaves his wife, four children, Leon, Angela, Dominic and Tony; and two brothers, Thomas Cappo and Frank Cappo, Monroe.

Funeral services will be held at St. Matthew's, Y. Casolo, Tom Jeter, Tony Lewis, and George Amelino.

GOVERNOR RAPS 3 MILLIONAIRES

fishes and local roads will deteriorate throughout the state."

Several alternative tax proposals are still before the legislature, including a payroll tax, higher income tax, transactions tax, and a wholesale sales tax. The house has indicated, since the senate killed the retail sales tax proposal last week, that it will explore these other revenue possibilities.

As one step in this direction, the house already has passed a bill levying a privilege tax on business establishments where slot machines are operated, a measure described as not tending to legalize gambling devices but simply to obtain some revenues in cases where they are permitted to operate. Sponsored by Major DeLesseps Morrison, house member from New Orleans, the tax is estimated to yield more than $1,000,000 per year.

Meanwhile, the senate finance committee discussed the expensive budget outlining proposed expenditures for the next two years, meeting in a session at the capitol while other house and senate members are in week-end recess, due to return to sessions Sunday night.

Only finance committee members aligned with the state administration were present with vice-chairman Lionel Ott, New Orleans, presiding. Senator Ott explained he had been informed by Senator Joe T. Cavert, Mansfield, the committee's chairman, and other anti-administration members, that they simply were "not interested" in attending the committee meeting.

It appeared evident that the finance committee, particularly with the minority group of anti-administration members not attending, would make few changes in the spending plans already adopted by the house. These contemplated inclusion of revenues from the now-defeated sales tax.

This presumably would leave to the entire senate membership next week the problem of considering any drastic spending curtailments in order to bring appropriations in line with revenues. Should the senate fail to make any cut the whole problem would be left to Governor Jones, who already has vetoed the legislature he will use his veto power to achieve a balanced budget.

Meanwhile, nearly all state institutions received orders to cut down administrative costs sharply by the beginning of the new fiscal year, July 1. Curtailments already have been announced by the state conservation department and the big charity hospitals at New Orleans and Shreveport, where only emergency cases are to be handled in the future.

glia setting fires and killing some people. Three raiders were shot down.

The American force has been expected momentarily to join the R. F. in its second front assault on Hitler since the visit here in April of Gen. George C. Marshall, United States chief of staff. The general then declared that great United States bombers would be flying against Germany from all parts of Britain.

Lieutenant-General Henry H. A. old, head of the United States air forces, who was in England with General Marshall, declared four weeks ago that "our air arm shall join on an air offensive against the one which he cannot meet, defeat or survive."

Since then, United States bombers have joined the battle in the Black Sea, Mediterranean and North Africa. They have raided Axis bases at Bruck and Bengasi, scored 35 bombs on two Italian battleships; 15 of them were reported to be blasted at Ploesti the Rumanian installations which lubricate Hitler's war machine on June 12.

The first official disclosure of United States air action in Britain was made by Major-General Dwight Eisenhower, American commander of the European war theater. He said Thursday that pilots were arriving rapidly increasing numbers."

Authoritative sources said United States air force would operate under a separate command but in collaboration with the British in long-range bombing plan. This was an indication that the American force is sizeable. Commanding officers already are conducting staff work with the R. A. F. on future bombing of Germany.

The British radio said R. A. attacks on German communications had created such a crisis that Hitler had appointed Gausleiter Kauffman of Hamburg "commissar of shipping."

Atlantic and Caribbean, many of them close to the United States continental shoreline.

The navy already has gobbled hundreds of privately-owned boats and their owners in the war against submarines. There have been complaints in congress and elsewhere, however, that its restrictions were so rigid that many useful craft and experienced watermen were ruled out.

The text of the navy's announcement: "Requirements have been relaxed to qualify additional numbers of small craft and crews for anti-submarine patrol duty. Approximately 1,200 small boats are in such service now and arrangements have been perfected for the coast guard, operating as part of the navy, to take further reinforcement into the temporary reserve."

"It is hoped that upward of 1,000 additional small boats for off shore navigation may be added to the auxiliary."

"All yachtsmen, fishermen and other small boat owners may immediately service their craft and offer them. If found capable, the men will be enrolled in the temporary reserve of the coast guard in appropriate rank or rating boats found to be qualified will be equipped with radio, armament and suitable anti-submarine devices as rapidly as possible."

"The enrollment of small boats and crews will be carried out by the district coast guard officer in each of the naval districts and on the Atlantic district and gulf coasts. When ready for the sea, the boats will be under the direct command of the naval commanders of the eastern and gulf sea frontiers."

"Vice-Admiral R. W. Waesche, commandant of the coast guard, has consulted with the officers of the National Yachting organizations and others authorized to act as spokesmen for small boat owners, with regard to the immediate acquisition of boats and crews. Vice-Admiral Waesche desires an organization of yachtsmen as coast guard reserve officers to build up and assist in the operation of these craft."

said, 23 Nazi planes were shot down, 46 tanks and 117 trucks destroyed and 300 Germans killed by Russian airmen.

The British radio, relaying Moscow accounts, said that in a violent flare-up of aerial warfare all up and down the front Soviet pilots were "breaking up" after raid upon Red army positions.

The BBC, heard in New York by CBS, quoted one correspondent as saying that "for the moment at least it looks as if further developments in the fighting may depend on which side can get air superiority first."

In "exceptionally fierce" fighting, the eight-day Ukraine offensive of the Germans was brought to a halt east of Kupansk, 50 miles southeast of Kharkov, said Pravda accounts. Thirty-one air battles were fought in a single day and 51 German planes were wrecked in them, said the newspaper's correspondent.

Before Sevastopol, the Crimea base of the Red fleet which has been under violent assault for 23 days, the Russians asserted the Germans had expended the stupendous total of 50 trainloads of explosives—bombs, shells and mines—in a "title effort to break open the city's defenses."

Their latest gains, made by reserves brought up after a lull in which manpower and munitions were replenished, were said, however, to have resulted in only a few dozen yards of plowed-up ground in two places in the northeast sector.

Even in one of these places, it was said, the Germans had been partly thrown out.

"The heroism of the Sevastopol garrison, its unwavering staunchness and devotion to duty stand out with utter clarity," said a Pravda dispatch from the city.

Bitter fights with knife, bayonet and pistol often have raged for hours between Russians and Germans in a single trench, the correspondent said.

The graves of thousands of Germans dot the hillsides where 50,000 of them

LOST! 69,300 Productive Hours

Think of it! 69,300 man-hours—8,662 working days—lost in 1941 in Southern Bell territory alone because of telephone receivers left off the hook.

When a receiver is left off the hook, a telephone man frequently must go to the subscriber's residence to ask that it be replaced. This takes him away from the more vital job of maintaining and extending telephone service essential to winning the war.

Failure to hang up your telephone receiver when a call is completed, ties up central office equipment too and slows down service generally.

Please then, remember—to hang up your telephone receiver properly after every call—caution other members of your household to do likewise—and be sure that books or other objects do not prevent the telephone receiver from resting firmly on the hook.

C. EMPLOYEES HOSTS AT DINNER

More Than Hundred Persons
Attend Annual Feast In West Monroe

Employees of the Illinois Central railroad held their annual chicken dinner at the West Monroe Fair grounds, with a number of invited guests also enjoying the annual affair.

One hundred and twenty employees and guests were served a half fried spring chicken, potato chips, hard boiled eggs, pickles, onions, tomatoes, bread and refreshments as a delightful climax to the party.

Among local public officials who were invited guests were C. R. Tidwell, commissioner of streets and parks; W. D. Mangham, superintendent of the municipal bus division; Bert Coverdale, Ouachita parish assessor; Mayor Elect "Monk" Golson, of West Monroe; Major DeWitt H. Clark, quartermaster of the reception center for the new Monroe navigation air school; C. E. Wilds of the Brown Paper mill and many other local businessmen.

Out-of-town guests included Bob Humble, vice-president of the C. & M. railroad; and Don Saunders, master mechanic, Bill Rogers, car foreman, Fred Welch, electrical foreman, and Jim Chapman, general foreman, all of the Illinois Central.

In addition to enjoying the delicious feast, employees and guests gathered in good fellowship groups prior to the serving of the supper.

Bob St. John, who annually has charge of the dinners, was highly commended by those present for his efforts in behalf of the gatherings.

3,000,000 POUNDS OF RUBBER FOUND

HANOVER, Mass., June 27.—(AP)—Discovery of 3,000,000 pounds of scrap rubber, which transformed this normally quiet, rural community into a "boom town reminiscent of the gold rush days," was reported today by the Massachusetts salvage committee.

The committee said the rubber, "literally acres of it," was found on the site of the abandoned Clapp Rubber Co., which sold its machinery and wrecked its buildings in the days when there were "limitless crude rubber supplies and there was no market for scrap."

There apparently is enough scrap, the committee added, to meet Massachusetts' entire quota under President Roosevelt's salvage program. A survey by David Lundquist, war production rubber specialist, indicated a considerable quantity was very valuable.

After discovery of the scrap by one of its employees, an oil company undertook the task of getting it away from hundreds of residents, including enterprising children, had the same idea, and the company turned over the project to the salvage committee.

The "mine" is located on the same site where the first blow in the United States and the anchors of the historic fragile Constitution, now ensconced at the Boston navy yard, were forged.

"Word of the rubber boom spread through the town like wildfire," the committee reported. "Hanover children raided the place and carried away hundreds of pounds to the nearest gasoline stations for a penny a pound."

When the committee stepped in to obtain options on some of the rubber, but allowed owners, who refused options, to sell the scrap on their land. They were not allowed to remove it, however, until the rubber reserve company of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation issues shipping instructions.

J. O. ALEXANDER RITES PLANNED

Funeral For Drowning Victim
Will Be Held On Monday

The funeral of Joseph Otto Alexander, 31, of 906 Montgomery street in West Monroe, who was drowned in Wall's lake Friday, will be held at the residence, Monday at 4 o'clock p.m. with the Mulhearn Funeral Home in charge. Interment will be in Hasley cemetery. Rev. C. E. Autrey, pastor of the First Baptist church, West Monroe, will officiate.

This drowning was the second of the day at this lake, as a negro boy named W. C. May, 19, was also drowned there shortly after 1 p.m.

The American Legion emergency truck, manned by Captain H. L. Hale and assistants was at the lake endeavoring to recover his body when word reached them of Mr. Alexander's accident.

Mr. Alexander was rowing across the lake Friday at 5:45 p.m. when the boat is believed to have been struck by lightning, causing it to capsize. He endeavored to swim ashore but sank in eight feet of water. His body was recovered at 7:30 p.m.

He is survived by his wife, one son, Joseph Otto Alexander, Jr., his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Alexander, West Monroe; seven brothers, Murray, Jack, Elmer, Morris, Claude and Arvell, Monroe, and James Alexander in an air school in Baltimore, Md.; and two sisters, Mrs. A. W. McNaughton and Mrs. H. A. Hall, West Monroe.

Funeral services will be held at the residence of the family.

WARTIME LID IS OVER POLITICS

Major Legislation Measures Feel Effects Of Coming Voting

By Edward Jamieson
WASHINGTON, June 27.—(Special)—Politics, not as usual, but politics just the same are steadily moving toward the front as state primaries and election campaigns move into higher gear.

The wartime lid on political talk in Washington still remains tightly clamped down, but the activity looking toward real votes in the summer primaries and next November's election is definitely picking up.

Aside from strictly war measures, virtually every piece of major legislation now under consideration or soon to be proposed by Congress is feeling the effect of the coming elections.

In most cases, the results will not directly interfere with the nation's war plans even though such measures as the tax bill, price control measures, and other proposals closely connected with the war effort are involved.

Possible repercussions in the administration's drive to hold down the cost of living and otherwise stabilize the national economy during the war period, however, are feared by the leaders.

In fact, one of the major fights now underway in Congress is over the question of pegging farm prices and if the farm bloc, with its eyes on the heavy rural vote next fall, wins out, administration leaders contend that efforts to keep food costs down will be seriously impaired.

On the basis of past experience, government economists feel certain that once food costs get out of control, the dangerous spiral of inflationary prices and wages will start.

While President Roosevelt asked for a political truce to unify the nations for the war effort, he had no illusions that politics could be eliminated completely from the national scene.

The comparative lack of political fights up to this time and the rather unusual form of present political activity stems from other factors.

The great majority of the members of Congress, just like other Americans, are definitely concerned with winning the war and would do nothing which they sincerely believed would hamper this achievement, even if it meant a hard fight for their reelection.

A second and very practical factor is the lack of interest on the part of American people generally in the political campaign. This lack of interest has already shown, in the early primary elections, that most of the congressional members will be returned to office. And a Senator or Congressman, just like everyone else, can do a better job when the security of his position is not too seriously threatened.

The president's administration has, however, had the effect of lessening public attention toward political moves since most members of Congress, as well as administration leaders, are cautious in pointing the finger of politics toward the various activities.

Some of the pending questions which nevertheless are definitely being affected by the coming elections include the tax bill, the draft program, wage controls, farm price legislation, and the price control program generally.

In normal times, Congress would not touch a tax bill substantially hiking income and other federal taxes.

ON PYTHIAN PROGRAM

at a time so close to elections with a ten-foot pole.

Under present circumstances, the majority of members recognize the need for a new and heavy tax measure. While there has been some disposition to delay enactment of the measure, there has been no real move to avoid it.

The closeness of elections, however, has and will mean the elimination of some of the more controversial provisions from the bill. Administration and Congressional leaders recognize this and will not attempt to force a showdown on these issues at this time.

It is a pretty good bet, though, that they will be revised again next year. Nothing much was said about it, but Washington was well aware that recent decisions by both the administration and the Congress on the military draft program were influenced by the coming balloting.

The administration acted by delaying plans for drafting boys in the 18 and 19-year-old group until later. Congress adopted last-minute legislation assuring married men a deferment until after November elections.

It is doubtful, despite the political advantage of these moves, that either would have been agreed to if military and draft officials had not made it clear that they would not interfere with plans for strengthening the military forces during the next six months.

By a reallocation of quotas among various boards and through less stringent physical requirements already adopted, officials believe that the needs for the army expansion during this period can be filled with single men between 20 and 45 and those married men whose wives and families are not dependent upon them.

Wage control has been a touchy subject since wartime price control was started, but many practical minded members of Congress and the administration as well feel that it will become necessary before the war is over if serious inflation is to be avoided.

In view of this situation, there is a wide belief here that soon after the November elections, wage control agitation will begin again and may even receive administration endorsement. Meanwhile, it will quietly sleep.

The farm bloc, which consists of those members of Congress who rely heavily on rural voters, had its eye peeled on the elections as it renewed efforts recently to secure 100 per cent parity loans this year on the basic farm commodities and is partially standing against the administration's efforts to sell government-owned surplus products below parity prices.

The administration has a real fight on its hands, because the farm bloc has shown its strength at frequent intervals during the past several years. Nevertheless, Congressional leaders believe that they will eventually win the fight for the administration. Farm bloc members, nevertheless, will have cleared their records for the voters back home.

Much of the trouble Leon Henderson, price control and rationing chief, is now having to be faced to the pending elections.

His determination to set up a nation-wide organization to police prices and rationing with a minimum of political considerations started a real fire in Congress and may eventually hurt his effectiveness in this important post.

The political plums hanging from the OPA patronage tree at a time like this were too rich to be ignored by Congress even in wartime.

Because Henderson would not go along with them, members of Congress began a personal attack upon him and may even later extend their hostile feeling to a curtailment of his powers and organization.

On the other hand, the administration through Henderson plans to delay some of its rationing plans until after the elections because of their unpopularity. In no case, however, will the rationing of any product or commodity considered absolutely necessary because of war demands be postponed. Some of the borderline cases, as well as those not immediately pressing, will be deferred.

The development of the war itself between now and November may be the most important factor of all in the partisan elections, but that remains in the laps of the Gods.

PYTHIANS PLAN ON BIG MEETING

Patriotic Open Session Scheduled; To Honor Men In Service

An open meeting will be held of elaborate nature by Stonewall lodge, Knights of Pythias, Thursday at 8 p.m. Plans call for the installation of officers by Grand Chancellor A. W. Trotter, assisted by Grand Prelate C. A. Kimball and Grand Inner Guard, J. Norman Coon. Addresses will be given by Wood H. Thompson, Monroe attorney, and by Vinson Mouser, of Columbia.

One of the important features of the evening's program will be the honoring of Pythians who are in service of the armed forces.

Those who are to be so honored with handsome flags for each family are: E. L. Ikerd, Jr., Stewart Richmond, DeWitt LaSaur, Edward Aulds, George A. Evans, George Fink, Max Fink, Harvey French, Homer French, Howell Heard, Oliver S. Heard, Willie Heard, T. W. Holden, George Kincaid, Howard McCallum, Dr. Ralph Payne, Dr. Wood Scott, Gerald Shell, Dr. Frank Wood, G. P. Hopkins, Leo M. Mayo, Walter Lee Hill, Will Lee Oliver, Karl Stevenson, B. A. Kennedy, Dr. J. W. Cummins, S. John Williams and Ben Parnell.

Each flag presented will be three feet by five feet, mounted on a staff. Also each member of the lodge at war will receive a receipt for lodge dues for the duration. Also each Pythian who is in service will be presented with a handsome card in recognition of his contribution to his country.

All members of the lodge and their friends and others interested are urged to attend and there will be seating accommodations made for as many as 1,000 persons.

The program will be as follows:

8:00 p.m.—Meeting called to order by C. A. Kimball, grand prelate. Invocation by Rev. J. P. Lowry, past chancellor commander.

Group singing—led by Harry Schroeder—Max Kulcke, pianist.

Presentation of the flag of our country by army, navy and marine recruiting officers, Sergeant H. B. McNeer, army, and others.

8:10 p.m.—Military number by Clarice and Goldish Roan, school of the dance. Misses Jeanne Hunt, Mary Louise Martine, Shirley Parker, Jean Kennedy, Lula Newberry, Jeanne Hunt and Clarice Roan will be participants.

8:15 p.m.—Roll call of our 29 honored members in service in the armed forces of our country. Roll call of all sons of Pythians in service in the armed forces of our country, recognition of all guests.

8:20 p.m.—Installation of officers conducted by C. A. Kimball, grand prelate; J. Norman Coon, grand inner guard, and M. G. Moore, past chancellor commander.

8:25 p.m.—Brother Vinson Mouser introducing Wood H. Thompson.

8:30 p.m.—Address of the evening by Wood H. Thompson.

9:00 p.m.—Response to Mr. Thompson's address by Vinson Mouser.

9:15 p.m.—Presentation of service flag by L. J. Hunnicutt, chancellor commander.

9:20 p.m.—Presentation of flags by all past chancellors to each family of our honored Pythian members in service. Flag, 3x5 feet, mounted on staff.

9:25 p.m.—Presentation of lodge receipts for dues for all members in military service.

9:27 p.m.—Presentation of recognition cards by all past chancellors to each Pythian who has a son in service.

9:30 p.m.—Meeting closed and refreshments served.

Delegates to the Monroe convention will be J. W. Hudson, Alton T. Harper, W. D. Gelson, W. King Hunt, W. M. Jarrell, John F. Young, D. C. Gelson and W. A. Dunn. Alternates will be Grady Brown, A. E. Russ, W. B. McGee, W. A. Singleton, E. K. Flournoy, W. D. Hanna, G. S. Manning and Russ Fowler.

The new officers will be installed at a meeting on the fourth Monday night in July, according to the present commander, G. B. Folds.

MONTGOMERY WARD HEIR NEEDS MORE

CHICAGO, June 27.—(AP)—Montgomery Ward's heir, 21, will have to kidnap more than his $500 a month allowance to keep up the house if he is going to continue entertaining his pals like he has.

His mother, Mrs. Marion Thorne, fourth wife of the Montgomery Ward mail order heir, put it this way in asking the circuit court yesterday to hike Monty's income from his father's estate.

"I don't want a spoiled boy, but the expenses make it necessary that Monty assume a larger share of keeping up the home. Monty simply adores children and insists on having his little friends in the city. He takes them swimming and to the theater, and to dinner at the club."

His monthly expenses, she said, included $320 for "milk and eggs," $25 for swimming instructions, $30 for a life guard, $100 for medical and dental services, and $50 for clothes.

The will advances his income to $1,000 a month at the age of 21. The court took the case under advisement.

Functions Of Navigation School Here Are Detailed

Project Of Southeast Training Center To Be In Operation Sept. 15

To increase the flow of trained navigators needed to team up with the broadening stream of new army air forces bombardier pilots, the Southeast Army Air Forces Training Center is establishing the Army Air Forces Navigation School at Monroe.

The new school becomes an integral part of the Southeast Training Center's expanding system of closely coordinated training units, at the head of which is Colonel W. W. Welsh.

Operations at the school are scheduled to begin about September 15. A cadre of enlisted men, now functioning at Maxwell Field as a school squadron, will move to Monroe shortly. The school squadron will furnish trained men for an organizational framework in which recruits will find places and functions as they arrive in the future to fill out the school's personnel.

Students, who will become navigation cadets upon entering the school, will be drawn from the Southeast Training Center's Classification Center at Nashville, Tenn. When they have received their navigator's wings, they will be prepared to take their places in tried air crews issuing from the nation's network of training fields for the all-important job of guiding them to their missions, whatever and wherever they may be.

The commanding officer of the new school will be Colonel Norris B. Harbold, who has been its project officer. Before his assignment as project officer, Colonel Harbold was director of training of the Army Air Forces Advanced Flying School, at Turner Field, Albany, Ga.

Under Colonel Harbold's command the school will be divided in two sections. The first of these will be known as the Pre-Flight Navigation Ground School, the second as the advanced Navigation School.

Slated to be director of training of the Pre-Flight Navigation Ground School is Lieutenant-Colonel T. V. Webb, at present commanding officer of the Pre-Flight School Navigator at Maxwell Field. Under Colonel Webb's supervision, navigation cadets will cover basic officers' training, in preparation for practical application of their art in the advanced stage of training.

The Advanced Navigation School will have as its director of training Lieutenant-Colonel L. S. Moseley, who now is director of training of the Advanced Navigation School at Turner Field. This school will move intact to Monroe with Colonel Moseley, to provide the first advanced navigation class of the Monroe Air Forces Navigation School.

The objectives of the Pre-Flight Navigation Ground School course are the mental and physical preparation of the cadet, for navigation requires informed manipulation of instruments and tables and accurate physical reactions and perceptions.

Physical training receives great emphasis in the pre-flight stage of training. Exercises which strengthen the muscles used in flying are stressed. These exercises were determined by physicians who observed students performing the activities of a navigator in flight while naked, and thus found what muscles come into play.

The program of the Advanced Navigation School is intensive. When the cadet has finished it, he is ready to take his place in a tactical crew. This course falls into two parts, a "ground" phase and an "air" phase. In the ground phase, the cadet spends eight hours a day in classes, and an additional three hours each night studying the celestial bodies. He is subject to being awakened at any hour before reveille to study the constellations, in order to be able to identify them in their varying positions at different hours of the night. He learns how to "shoot" celestial bodies with the sextant.

In the "air" phase of the advanced course, the cadet spends at least 100 hours in flight, working out some twenty different kinds of navigation problems. He explores the mysteries of different modes of navigation—by radio, celestial, pilotage and dead reckoning. He also works out problems of interception such as guiding the aircraft to cut off the course of a ship sailing through the trackless wastes of the sea.

TECH PLANS FOR FALL OPENING

Maneuvers Of Army Not To Delay Resumption Of Studies

RUSTON, La., June 27.—(Special)—Officials of Louisiana Tech have arranged the college calendar for the school year and President Claybrook Cottingham expressed the belief that the scheduled army maneuvers in this area are not likely to interfere with the opening dates of the fall semester. Last year, Tech delayed its fall opening until October 2 because of the soldiers' practice drills.

The calendar for this fall includes six days of preliminary procedure, beginning on September 8, with class work listed to start on September 14. Some of the dates on the Tech schedule are as follows:

September 8—freshman dormitories open; September 9—freshman orientation activities; September 11—dormitories open; September 12—freshman registration; September 12—upper-classmen registration; September 14—classes begin.

November 26-30—Thanksgiving holidays; December 19 (noon) to January 4, 8 a.m.—Christmas holidays; January 25—second semester begins; April 2 (noon) to April 27, 8 a.m.—Easter holidays; May 29—second semester ends; June 1—summer school begins; August 7—summer school ends.

'PREVENTION LESS COSTLY THAN CORRECTION'--LANDRY AND STEELE

NEW AUTO SERVICE FIRM HAS MODERN EQUIPMENT

Ouachita motorists are assured of the best in service in the service department of Landry & Steele Auto Service, 306-310 North Third, which has the latest equipment for testing and servicing cars.

'BETTER SERVICE' IS SHORTY'S SHOP MOTTO

After five years of experience in giving good service L. O. Wilkinson, owner and operator of Shorty's Body Shop, is confident he knows how to keep any type of automobile at the peak of efficiency, with the aid of his modern equipment.

Mr. Wilkinson realizes that our wartime motorists must keep a closer eye on the performance of their cars than ever before—since it may be many months before new ones are available.

He advises car owners to not delay—have their automobiles checked over before something serious develops. He guarantees his work, knows how to give you a satisfactory job and invites you to visit his shop when next you need service or repairs.

In addition to the Bear alignment equipment, a complete service department and good mechanics, Shorty's Body Shop also has an efficient paint department. Mr. Wilkinson also sug-

TIRES WEAR FASTER DURING HOT WEATHER

That set of tires that looked so good last winter are wearing down rapidly under the blistering heat of summer, warns O. C. Luther, of Luther's Wheel Alignment Service, 204 North Second.

But, even the torrid rays of the summer sun are not as damaging to your tires as are wheels out of alignment or balance, Mr. Luther pointed out. As much as fifty per cent of the life of tires is wasted through the operation of your car with the frame or front end out of alignment. This condition may be quickly and efficiently corrected at Mr. Luther's shop at a minimum of cost.

Equipped with the famous Bear Wheel Alignment instruments and equipment, Mr. Luther's shop can accurately check your wheels, front end and frame. After the alignment job is completed the car is again checked and when you drive it out of the shop you will know that you are getting the "tops" in tire efficiency and life.

Wheel alignment service is handled by Mr. Luther at a nominal charge, and will certainly add thousands of miles to the life of your car.

GOOD CLEANING SERVICE FROM UNIQUE CLEANERS

In his efforts to keep pace of progress in the development of new methods and new equipment, Charles Chisholm, of the Unique Cleaners, West Monroe, is doing a good job of turning out satisfactory dry cleaning.

Especially proud is Mr. Chisholm of the commendation he is receiving from the womenfolk, who know cleaning better than menfolk. This commendation, Mr. Chisholm says, is best shown through the constantly increasing business given his shop.

Another important phase of the Unique Cleaners is the alteration department.

While little more than a year old, the Unique Cleaners are already firmly established in the Twin Cities as a quality cleaning plant.

To maintain this high esteem, Mr. Chisholm is constantly adding new equipment to his plant, and with a staff of efficient cleaners and pressers, anything in the apparel, even the most delicate, is safely entrusted to them.

PRIMOS CAFE GIVES GOOD FOOD, SERVICE

When the heat of summer is bearing down heavily, making life almost impossible for the housewife, a treat to the whole family, according to Gus Primos, is to bring them to his excellent cafe and cafeteria.

Air-conditioned, to insure your dining in complete comfort, with the newest and most modern appointments, and the finest in foods, a dinner there is always a real treat.

The kitchen of the Primos Cafe is manned by chefs who know how to make good food even more delectable. Fine sea foods, steaks, fried chicken and scores of other delicious items of culinary art are on the menu.

Mr. Primos suggests that if you want to enjoy good food, in comfortable surroundings and served in a manner to please you most, come to his cafe any day in the week for any meal.

New Automobile Firm Has Finest Service Equipment

How much do you know about the condition of the "innards" of your car? Do you hear occasional squeaks and squeals that indicate trouble ahead? Are you getting 10, 15 or 20 miles to the gallon?

In keeping with that old adage, "a stitch in time saves nine," Landry & Steele Auto Service, 306-310 North Third, is equipped and ready to diagnose the ills to your car and give you preventive as well as corrective service for any make automobile.

The Twin City Motor company, headed by L. P. Landry, who for the past 16 years has so successfully operated the above firm, and the Central Auto Sales, headed by F. N. (Sticky) Steele, whose automobile experience dates back to "Model T" days, have pooled their service equipment and personnel in the interest of better service to the motorists of this area.

In the merging of their equipment local motorists are assured not only the finest in up-to-the-minute equipment, but the most efficient corps of mechanics this area offers.

"Preventive service is much less expensive than corrective service," stated Mr. Landry in commenting on the modern testing equipment to be found in the new service department. Through tests made by these instru-

SERIAL STORY SPECIAL INVESTIGATOR BY BLANCHE ROBERTS

CHAPTER VI

Judith huddled in the dark against the cabin wall and tried to think of a way to escape.

"If this were only a town of some size," she sighed. "But it's just a vacant lot in the road and there's no place to hide. Those men will search every nook for me and if I fall in their hands now, it's goodbye to me—and the plans, too."

Never underestimate the enemy, she had read—and that thought persisted now. She turned her head to listen more carefully.

In a moment, one of the men asked for a cabin.

"Sure—that one right yonder. Put your car right next to the end cabin," instructed the woman.

Judith realized with a start that she had to act now. She darted across the vacant lot to the next building and hid in its shadow. She waited, shivering with fright, but no one followed. She knew she had not been seen.

Down the street she saw a filling station, and as she watched, the lights went off and a young man went about closing up for the night. A small car stood beside the building.

"Maybe he'll drive me to San Diego," she thought as she made her way carefully, avoiding the street. The bushes took her stockings, but she hardly felt them. She stayed hidden until the young man locked up, then approached him hesitatingly.

"Sorry, lady, but I just closed," he told her as she walked up. "No more sales tonight."

Her eyes swept over him quickly. He was just a boy, probably not yet 20.

"I don't want any gasoline," she said, with a smile. "Would you like to make $50?"

"Who wouldn't?" he grinned. Then he eyed her a bit suspiciously. "Are you on the level?"

"Oh, yes. I want to reach San Diego as soon as I can. It's urgent. Something happened to the car I was riding in. I've had an awful time getting this far. Can you drive me there tonight?" she pleaded.

"Sure, I'll drive you," he said quickly. "But I'll have to call mom and tell her where I'm off to. She'd worry if I didn't show up."

He unlocked the door of the station office and went in. When he phoned, Judith got in the car, keeping a close watch down the street for the big black car.

"If it wasn't for my red hair, I might lose them," she put a hand up and felt the tousled curls. "Red makes me a marked woman." For the first time in her life, she wished for blond hair.

The youth came out and got in the car.

"Well, we're all set, I guess," he started the car.

As they sped down the highway, Judith opened her purse and drew out some bills.

"I'll pay you now, in advance," she told him. "If anything went wrong she wanted the boy to have his pay."

"Oh I trust you," he assured her. But he took the money and pocketed it. "I should have plenty of time to get you to the city and be back here by 7 to 10 open up."

"Drive as fast as you like," she said, smiling. "The faster the better, I'm in a hurry and you seem to be a good driver."

"Sure," he said, pressing hard on the accelerator. "Mom won't ever ride over 20 with me."

Judith held her breath but never uttered a sound as they wound around the mountains, climbing steep inclines and scolding down again. Confident in the boy's driving, she relaxed and dozed a few minutes.

Suddenly, she awoke with a scream of terror.

"It's only a tire, lady," he said hurriedly and brought the car to a jolting stop by the side of the road. "It won't take me long to fix it."

But Judith was shaking when she stepped from the car. She stared behind them, but only darkness met her eyes.

"Look," she began impulsively as he prepared to change his tire. "I'll be honest with you. They are some spies after me and if they catch me, it will mean harm to the government as well as the end of my life."

The young man straightened with a jerk and gulped.

"They were back there at the camp when we left town."

"Oh, my gosh!" he exclaimed hoarsely. "That's mom's camp and I told her I was taking a girl to San Diego. They may find out from her. She's an awful tattler, she is."

"If you don't mind, I'll just hide while you fix that flat. I am not taking any chances."

"This will be the quickest change I ever made. There was haste in his actions, but even so, it was slow going in the dark."

Judith found protection under a culvert and huddled there, almost paralyzed with fear. Bugs brushed against her face. If she ever got out of this, she told herself, she would never claim that she loved danger again. She would lead a peaceful, quiet life. That thought brought Tom Burke to her mind. But before she had time to dwell on him, she heard the hum of a motor approaching from around the mountain. Almost immediately, the car roared over her hiding place and came to a squealing stop by the boy.

"You got somebody with you?" demanded a voice she recognized as Heavy's. The car door banged as he got out.

"Not now," the boy said. "I did have a girl I was taking to San Diego. But when I got this flat, she hopped another car going by and left me. After promising to pay me, too."

"Was she a redhead?"

"I think so. I couldn't be sure."

"How long ago she hopped another ride?"

"Twenty minutes, I guess. Maybe 15."

"What kind of car?"

"I dunno, but I think it was a dark red one. I was so mad I didn't pay it any mind."

"Think he's telling the truth?" asked Karl.

"Sure," answered Heavy. "That dame's slicker'n an eel. Thanks, buddy."

The car roared off.

Judith crawled out and shook the dead leaves and dust from her clothes. "I'll never be able to thank you enough for what you just did," she said. There were tears of gratitude in her blue eyes.

"I was glad to do it," the boy said, and sat down suddenly on the running board of his car. "I was scared stiff and I don't mind admitting it." Judith sat down by him. She unfastened a small jeweled watch on her wrist. It was a gift from Tom on her last birthday. She reached for his hand and dropped the watch into his palm.

"This is for you. Give it to your best girl friend."

"Gee, lady, I couldn't take that," he objected and tried to give the watch back to her. "You don't owe me anything more."

"I owe my life and what I am carrying to San Diego to you. And I want you to have this little token—at least, I want the girl you love to have it." She made him take it. She loved the little jeweled piece; it was her dearest possession. "Any time you hear of Judith Kingsley, you can remember this night."

In a few minutes they were off again.

"I know a different route to the city and we'll take it," he said. "Of course, it's longer and rougher but I sure don't want to run into those men again."

Several hours later they reached San Diego. It was still dark, and Judith was almost unconscious from weariness and lack of sleep.

Here in the city, she thought, her pursuers surely could not catch up with her. She decided to get some sleep, and go to the airplane factory in the morning.

She asked the youth to drive her to a hotel. When they found one, she thanked him again and stumbled wearily to the desk to get a room.

Victor 27910, All I Need Is You—F. T. (V. R.). Coming Out Party—F. T. Vaughn Monroe and his orchestra.

All I Need Is You (DeRose-Davis-Parish) is an appealingly sentimental ballad gorgeously played by the Monroe orchestra. Marilyn Duke delivers the lyrics in her charming fashion. A singable and very hard-to-forget melody sets this song quickly in every listener's mind. The words which express thoughts common to so many of us today are well put together and skillfully wedded to music. . . . Coming Out Party (Milton Ebbins) effects a quick change of scenery. On this tune we find the Monroe band beating it out at an easy tempo. The rhythm rolls along in jig time while instrumental soloists and orchestra ensemble cut clever figures in dance-compelling fashion. This is the type of number that has kept Vaughn Monroe breaking attendance records on his recent one-nighter tour. It's a dancer's delight and a happy couple for the lovely ballad, All I Need Is You.

Victor 27911, Because You Love Me: The Day Is Done (Recitations by Franklin MacCormack)—Wayne King and his orchestra.

Six months ago Wayne King made a record on which Franklin MacCormack recited two selections. The musical background was painted by Wayne King with the appealing music of None But the Lonely Heart and Melody of Love. . . . This week we give you two additional recitations by Franklin MacCormack with a background of soothing music by Wayne King and his incomparable orchestra. This time MacCormack recites Because You Love Me by Johnstone and The Day Is Done by Longfellow. Morrison's "Meditation" is used for background music to the former while an original composition by Wayne King serves as musical background for the latter.

Bluebird B-11537, This Is Worth Fighting For—F. T. (V. R.); Wonder When My Baby's Coming Home—F. T. (V. R.)—Shep Fields and his New Music.

A field day for the Shep Fields' team of woodwind experts is offered in this pairing of bright new hits. DeLange and Stept collaborated in writing This Is Worth Fighting For, a war song that pictures beautifully the appeal of home and country. Ken Curtis is at his usual best in singing the well-thought-out lyric while the reeds and rhythm decorate the melody gracefully. . . . Wonder When My Baby's Coming Home (Kermit J. Goell-Arthur Kent) is another song about which you will be hearing a great deal this season. It combines sentiment and musical worth in a handsomely thought-out structure. Ken Curtis is the vocalist.

Bluebird B-11546, Plain Talk; Don't Let My Spurs Get Rusty While I'm Gone—Carson Robison with Orchestra.

Carson Robison, the two-fisted buckaroo from the wide-open spaces, lays it on the line again. Plain Talk is just as its title indicates—some excellent advice for all of us to follow. Carson tells each of us what we should do to help win the war and does it in such a straight-forward manner that no one can miss the point and still no one can be offended. Don't Let My Spurs Get Rusty While I'm Gone is a livelier affair in a much less serious vein. The rhythm in this number reminds us of Carson's 1942 Turkey in the Straw.

One of the loveliest members of the younger set, Miss Vyvian Harper, daughter of Judge and Mrs. William Harper, in the picture above, will attend Sophie Newcomb college next year. She was a member of this year's graduating class of the Neville High school and was awarded the Sophie Newcomb, four-year scholarship for high scholastic achievement.

Four charming sorority members, Miss Martha McManus, Miss Sue Mary Moore, Miss Martha Madden and Miss Bettie Carter, sponsors for Delta Sigma fraternity, were prominent figures at the social affairs in connection with the third district conclave this week-end. To the right.

Miss Sidney Marie Loeb, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Bert Heinberg, whose betrothal to Dr. David Ostrich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Ostrich of Lafayette, was formally announced last week. Open house at the Heinberg home last night brought a wide concourse of friends together to meet Dr. Ostrich and his parents who are guests in the city for a few days. Oval picture above.

Miss Melba Busby Marries Ensign Ronnie Bounds In Impressive Ceremony

Reception Follows At Bride's Parents' Home

Couple Leaves On Short Motor Trip And Will Later Make Home At Fort Worth, Texas

Claiming prominence among the season's many nuptials was the marriage of Miss Melba Irene Busby, only daughter of Captain and Mrs. J. D. Busby, and Ensign Ronnie Earl Bounds, son of Mrs. W. W. Mosley of DeKalb, Miss., at the Busby home June 21 at 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon with the Rev. L. T. Hastings, pastor of the First Baptist Church, this city, performing the impressive double-ring ceremony in the presence of a large concourse of friends and relatives.

Beautiful flowers from summertime gardens were banked with artistic extravagance in the reception suite, where the ceremony was performed before an improvised altar encompassed about with seven-branched candelabra supporting tall cathedral tapers. White gladioli were used exclusively in the altar decor.

While the guests were assembling Mrs. Charles Gausshill rendered a brilliant nuptial concert. She also accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Johnette Register Wroten, who sang "At Dawning."

The lighting of the tapers by Miss Annette Mosley, sister of the bride, in rose-colored chiffon model, and Miss Helen Benton, in canary yellow mouseline, was a lovely ceremony.

Mrs. S. C. Wimbish, Jr., of Shreveport served as matron of honor. She wore an azure blue taffeta model with full skirt and carried an arm bouquet of peach-colored gladioli.

Mr. G. M. L. Key served his nephew as best man.

The bride's mother wore a Bahama blue silk jersey model with corsage of white carnations and pink Rain-bow asters. The bridegroom's mother wore a shadow crepe model with corsage of white carnations.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a diaphanous wedding gown of white chiffon and white embroidered tulle. The bodice of embroidered tulle was fashioned with a V neckline and short puffed sleeves. Self-covered buttons from the neck to the hemline were the only trimmings. The skirt was long and full with a veil of illusion caught to the hair with a halo cap of ruffled tulle, falling to the hemline. Her only ornament was a single strand of pearls. A beautiful bouquet of gardenias and mauve-colored orchids was carried.

Immediately following the ceremony an informal reception was held. Later the bride cut the wedding cake placed on the lace-covered table in the dining room. It was a three-tiered confection surmounted with bride and groom figurines. California daisies in small plaques centered with white tapers graced the four corners of the table. White tapers also burned in crystal candelabra flanking the wedding cake. Ices molded in the form of daisies and beautifully embossed, individual wedding cakes were served by Mrs. Effie Roselle, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. S. C. Wimbish, Jr. Mr. and Mrs. Bounds left for a short motor trip following the reception. Mrs. Bounds' traveling costume was of navy blue sheer with white lace and chiffon yoke, and white and navy accessories. An orchid from her wedding bouquet was worn.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were: Mrs. W. W. Mosley, DeKalb, Miss., mother of the groom; Mrs. S. L. Stennis and George Gilbert Stennis, sister and nephew of the groom, Crystal Springs, Miss.; Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Chatham, Rayville.

Mrs. Bounds is a graduate of Ouachita Parish High School, Northeast Junior College and Louisiana State University, class of 1941, where she received her bachelor of music degree. She is a member of Delta Omicron, national music sorority, Phi Theta Kappa, national honorary junior college fraternity.

Mr. Bounds is a graduate of DeKalb High School, Northeast Junior College, and Louisiana State University, class of 1941, where he received his B. A. degree. He is a member of Phi Theta Kappa. Mr. Bounds is now an ensign in the United States naval air corps.

The couple will make their home in Fort Worth, Tex., for the time being.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Davidson and daughter, Miss Ida Sophie Davidson, will leave later in the week for a three weeks' visit in the east. They will enjoy a visit with friends in Philadelphia and in New York City will make a tour of the markets.

ENSIGN AND MRS. R. E. BOUNDS

The marriage of Ensign and Mrs. Bounds took place at the First Baptist church, this city, last week and was widely attended by friends and relatives. The reception following the ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents, Captain and Mrs. J. D. Busby.

Miss Margaret Saunders Weds Dana G. McCarty

Of sincere interest to friends in this section of the state is the marriage of Miss Margaret Saunders and Lieutenant Dana G. McCarty of Winnsboro, La., June 13, at the home of Mrs. R. O. Folkes of Dothan, Ala., with the Reverend Sam Reeves officiating in the presence of a few friends and members of the family.

The ceremony was performed before an improvised altar reared in the reception suite near a wide bay window, where baskets overflowing with white gladioli, white calla lilies and woodwardia fern formed a beautiful setting. Cathedral tapers in seven-branched candelabra were placed in the background.

As the guests assembled Mrs. Frank Whitesell played "Evening Star" (Tannhauser) and as the candles were lighted by Miss Winifred Brock and Miss Claire Wolkes, Miss Louise Newton sang "I Love Thee" (Greig). The wedding march from Lohengrin was used for the processional.

Miss Marion Strickland, of Cllo, was maid of honor and only attendant to the bride. Lieutenant A. Hamilton Emery III, of Stamford, Conn., served as best man.

Miss Strickland was attired in romance blue taffeta and lace designed with heart-shaped neckline three-quarter length sleeves and extremely puffed skirt. A short veil was attached to her hair by a cluster of sweetheart roses. Her shoulder bouquet was fashioned of pink carnations.

The bride was given in marriage by Dr. M. S. Dovie, who for many years has been a friend of her family.

The bride wore a lovely gown of white net and lace made with elongated waistline, sweetheart neckline, short sleeves, and a full skirt lavishly trimmed with tiers of rare, white lace. Her fingertip length veil of white bridal illusion fell in misty folds from a coronet of orange blossoms. She wore elbowlength white lace mittens and carried a shower bouquet of white gladioli, carnations and gypsophila.

An informal reception followed the wedding ritual. The bride's table cloth, held as a centerpiece the beautifully embossed wedding cake which was encircled by gardenias and plumosa fern.

Mrs. McCarty is the attractive daughter of Mrs. Cora Borland Saunders and the late R. M. Saunders of Dothan. She attended the Dothan schools, Saint Cecilia academy at Nashville and was graduated this year from the State Teachers' college at T. S. She is a talented musician and was prominent in student activities during her school years. At the Troy college she became a member of Zeta Beta Phi social sorority.

Lieutenant McCarty, the elder son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. McCarty of Winnsboro, Louisiana, is a graduate of the school of engineering at Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge. He is a member of Theta Chi social fraternity and several honorary societies. At L. S. U. Lieutenant McCarty also majored in the study of geology. He was called to army duty in January as a reserve officer and is stationed at Fort Benning, Ga.

After a short wedding trip, Lieutenant McCarty and his bride will reside in Columbus, Ga.

Representatives Of Garden Clubs Meet

Plans for next year's activities were discussed by a group of prominent members of Monroe's three Garden clubs at a special meeting at the Virginia hotel last week.

The presence of Mrs. B. G. Coulter of Winnsboro, the new president of the Louisiana Federated Garden clubs, created additional interest. She was introduced by Mrs. Elmer Richards, member of the Monroe Garden club.

The feasibility of sponsoring a flower judging show in Monroe next fall was a subject brought up for discussion.

Burt Longerich And Miss Mary Coates Wed

Mr. Burt Longerich has a wide circle of friends in this city who will read with genuine interest the account of his wedding June 23 appearing in the Daily Oklahoman, as follows:

White gladioli, palms and white tapers were combined to decorate the Crown Heights Christian church Tuesday evening for the wedding of Miss Mary Coates, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger S. Coates, 911 Northwest Twentieth street, and Edward Burt Longerich, Monroe, La., son of Mr. and Mrs. August Longerich, Indianapolis, Ind.

A large central basket, filled with white gladioli, was used at the altar with seven-branched candelabra on either side. Floor baskets of the same flowers and candelabra were placed in a semi-circle about the prie-dieu and ficus trees completed the decoration of the sanctuary.

Rev. Harry L. Ice, pastor, read the nuptial vows following a musical program given by the church choir, directed by Lee Sorey, and a group of love songs read by Mrs. Jack Randall Caughron.

After the processional hymn, the vested choir sang Bohm's anthem, "Calm as the Night" and a nuptial prayer to close the service.

Mrs. George R. Morris, organist, played a medley of wedding compositions with Cadman's "At Dawning," as the central theme because of the bride's friendship with the composer. The traditional wedding marches were used for the processional and recessional.

Altar candles were lighted by Richard Hood, son of Dr. and Mrs. F. Redding Hood, and Bobby Barry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Barry, Jr.

Bridal attendants were Mrs. Ervin S. Kern, New Canaan, Conn., twin sister of the bride, who served as matron of honor, and Mrs. Guy Nesom, Baton Rouge, La., bridesmaid, and Mary Frances Kern and Roger Ervin Kern, niece and nephew of the bride, flower girl and boy.

Mrs. Kern's frock was of pink organza made with bouffant skirt, short puffed sleeves and V-neckline while Mrs. Nesom wore a blue organza gown fashioned on the same lines. Their headresses, which matched their dresses, were small off-the-face hats and they carried shower bouquets of pink carnations.

The flower girl wore a floor-length white organza frock made with square neckline and puffed sleeves and had a halo headress of dusty pink carnations. The flower boy wore a white suit with pink carnation boutonniere. They carried baskets of rose petals.

best man and ushers were Mr. Kern, Robert Williams, Doctor Caughron and William Hulsey.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore the antique white, Swiss mull wedding gown of her maternal grandmother, Mrs. William Green Surber. Fashioned along Queen Elizabeth lines, the dress was trimmed with quilted eyelet insertions. The three-tiered skirt, with demitrain, was made with horizontal pin tucks and the long full sleeves were fan-shaped at the wrist.

The veil of illusion fell from a halo of seed pearls and rhinestones and extended beyond the short train. Ivory colored gladioli formed her bridal bouquet.

The bride selected a navy sheer dress, short white crepe jacket, and white accessories as her going-away ensemble. Her corsage was of gladioli blossoms.

Mrs. Coates wore a pink organza gown and silver accessories. Mrs. Longerich selected a black lace and crepe frock. Both had corsages of gardenias.

Miss Carrie Surber, Akron, Ohio, aunt of the bride, wore an orchid chiffon dress and pink carnation corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Coates entertained with a reception in the church parlors after the ceremony.

The newlyweds left for a wedding trip to Indianapolis and will stop in Akron, Ohio, for a short visit en route to Monroe, La., where they plan to establish a home.

The bride received her doctorate in speech from the Louisiana State university, Baton Rouge, in June, was graduated from Akron University, Akron, Ohio, received her master's degree from the University of Wisconsin, Madison; was head of the speech department of Parsons college, Fairfield, Iowa, several years and is a member of Delta Gamma sorority and Theta Alpha Phi, honorary dramatic sorority.

The bridegroom received his A. B. degree from the University of Iowa and took his master's degree from Butler University, Indianapolis; is now working on his doctorate in speech at Louisiana State. He is director of drama and radio for the northeast division of the university at Monroe.

He has played in many productions on the New York stage and was a member of the original casts of the plays, "Student Prince," "Desert Song" and "Blossom Time." He also is a member of Theta Alpha Phi.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Nelwyn Barnard and Mr. Rupert Campbell at the Methodist church in Jonesboro with the pastor, Rev. W. D. Milton, performing the ceremony in the presence of a few friends and members of the family.

Beautiful yellow lilies and blue hydrangeas formed a colorful background for the ceremony.

The bride wore a smart black and white model with small white turban and shoulder length veil. A corsage of white gladioli was worn.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Bessie Barnard of Quitman, La. Mr. Campbell is associated with the Ray Dickinson company of Marshall, Tex.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Campbell motored to New Orleans for a brief honeymoon.

Miss Jane Dawkins is planning to leave next week for Newport News, Va., where she will participate in the wedding of her former suitor-mate at Mary Baldwin college, Miss Barbara Baker.

En Passant

It's likely to turn out to be a very good thing that we can't get into automobiles this summer and stream over hot pavement in search of grassy spots that in the long run prove to be less comfortable than the environs of our own home. It makes more sense to arrange a barbecue supper right in our own back yard. In fact we are going to learn a lot of things this summer and one thing in particular—that our own yard is greener and cooler than those remote places that used to lure us away from home in times past when the sky was the limit insofar as speed and tires were concerned.

Mrs. George Weeks, Jr., had the right idea when she converted the basement of the Weeks home on Riverside into an attractive rendezvous where friend husband would take pleasure in entertaining friends informally.

Mrs. Weeks transformed the drab surroundings into a colorful nook as a surprise to her husband. She has a flair for painting and sketching so she drew amusing figures on the walls and encircled the ceiling with pink elephants drinking from colorful stens. Guests at "Weak Spot," a name suggested by a friend, will never suffer from ennui in such unique surroundings.

The most attractive feature is the bar fully equipped with all the paraphernalia for mixing a perfect cocktail. Benches, cushioned in gay fiesta colors, outline the walls and scattered here and there are low coffee tables and tables for cards.

When everything was in readiness Mrs. Weeks invited in a few intimates during the cocktail hour as a surprise to Mr. Weeks. A friend at this time suggested the name "Weak Spot." It met with the approval of everyone so henceforth this charming place will be known by that name.

Nothing's safe around the home any more if it happens to be made of rubber. Not even the baby's teething ring is held sacred by zealous members of the household who are collecting items for their wartime projects.

In the mountain high collection of articles gathered during the past few weeks can be seen the greatest conglomeration of old rubber imaginable. In addition to teething rings are seen bath caps, tennis shoes, golf balls, bicycle tires, sponges, poker chips, shower curtains, rubber boots, hose, girdles and hundreds of miscellaneous articles. Throughout the city areas service station crews assumed the responsibility of relieving the scrap rubber gathered from almost every home in the Twin Cities.

Mayor Benoit urged that everyone give the campaign his wholehearted support. And in response to his call every attic, basement, and back yard was stripped clean of rubberized articles not in use.

The family album, a relic of the past and brought forth from its hiding place only when one desired a good laugh, has been glorified these days. Sally Foster has an album but it is of the 1942 variety. In place of red plush binding it is made of heavy ivory paper and between the pages are pictures of twelve lovely girls—Sally's classmates at the Neville High school.

By the way, Sally was selected by the American Legion auxiliary to represent them at Girls' State in Baton Rouge last week. Only girls with outstanding qualifications in character, service and leadership, who will have a serious attitude toward intensive citizenship training program, were selected.

Girls' State is a plan for training

RECEIVES HONORS...

Miss Sally Foster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Foster was selected by members of American Legion auxiliary, local post, to represent them at Girls' State at the Louisiana State university, Baton Rouge, last week. Miss Foster was selected as the outstanding student at Neville High school.

in the functional aspects of citizenship. It is a program of education sponsored by the American Legion auxiliary of Louisiana. Its purpose is to teach the youth of today constructive attitudes toward American form of government. Girls' State attempts to show that our scheme of government has not outworn its usefulness; that all democracy needs is an intelligent citizenry and a clean, honest and impartial administration responsive to the will of the people.

An air cadet's best girl wrote the following lines and dedicated them to all pilots:

"He went up there today—up there out of the world of men into the world of the sky..."

"I've heard there's a lady up there, a lady with hair of soft clouds who wears the golden radiance of a beautiful day to blind men. At night she wears black velvet and sprinkles stardust in her hair..."

"When he comes back his face will be tanned and his eyes bluer than ever. The sky will be in them. All men who fly look like that; they never seem to see you... just the sky... Will she win him from me or will she be kind and let him fly back?... When he flies out over the sea will he think of me? Can he possibly know my emotions every time I see or hear a plane? That I stop and gaze upward to see the sunlight glancing on the wings and wonder when he'll come back?"

"Does he sing along in tune with the throbbing engines, or is he quiet and content up there in infinity, alone with God? Does he reach out to touch that which is nothing and yet everything?... When he's up there alone, please, God, help him to do his job... Keep him safe and let him come back to me!"

Beta Delta Sorority Members Give Tea In Honor Of New Officers, Sponsors

McGuire Club Scene Of Beautiful Affair

Miss Jackie Warren Is Installed As President Of Group For Coming Year

Simplicity marks vacation days this year. The long motor trips are definitely out of the picture for obvious reasons. The luxury cruises are out as well. Sumptuous train trips are no longer on the schedule as railroads are moving troops and freight. Even the bus schedules are somewhat restricted, so the very best we can do is to stay at home and like it.

Staying at home can be very pleasant if one is surrounded by friends who can be depended upon to keep the social ball rolling. Members of the younger set can be depended upon when it comes to arranging gay, informal affairs, such as the open house at McGuire's club house last Thursday afternoon.

Members of Beta Delta sorority were hostesses at this time and received their friends in the spacious lounge adorned with beautiful garden flowers. The tea was arranged as a compliment to the new officers and sponsors and in commemoration of Founder's Day.

Pink roses banked the lace covered, silver service table presided over by Mrs. J. L. Warren, Mrs. E. E. Caves and Mrs. C. H. McManus, all of whom wore lovely, summery afternoon gowns with corsages in harmony with their costumes.

The president of Beta Delta sorority, Miss Martha McManus, and Misses Sybil Edwards, Betty Cook, Irene Rainbolt, Miss Lallage Frazee and Mrs. J. A. Rainbolt assisted in receiving and in serving the delicious refreshments.

Honor guests on this occasion were the new officers and sponsors. They were: Miss Jackie Warren, President; Miss Shirley Parker, Vice President; Miss Betty Cook, Secretary; Miss J. Ann Cole, Treasurer; Miss Mary Ann McManus, Reporter; Miss Jean Kennedy, Historian; Miss Margaret O'Leary, Sergeant at Arms; Miss Mary Bernard Harter, Pledge Captain; Miss Yvonne Hyman, Corresponding Secretary; Miss Irene Rainbolt, Parliamentarian.

Sponsors: Lewis Whitfield, Delta Sigma; Bob Carter, Phi Kappa; Jack Fluke, Sigma Phi Omega; Mrs. C. H. McManus, Mrs. J. L. Warren, Mrs. C. H. Meredith, Miss Lallage Frazee and Babs McDonald, sorority sweetheart.

Jane Morris Morris George Wannamaker

A wedding characterized by charming simplicity and beauty was that of Miss Jane Bolling Morris, daughter of Mrs. Ella D. Morris of Baton Rouge, and Mr. George Wannamaker, son of Mrs. Lucy Wannamaker of Hammond, La., in the Baptist Methodist Church at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon with Rev. C. E. McLean officiating.

The church was beautifully decorated with garlands of southern smilax gracefully entwining the chancel rail. Marie Antoinette floor baskets overflowing with hydrangeas in pink and blue flanked each side of the altar. Baskets of pink and white gladioli were placed at vantage points along the chancel rail interspersed with candelabras holding slender white cathedral tapers.

Following the ceremony a program of nuptial music was rendered by Mrs. J. B. Spier, organist, Miss Alma Goss, soloist, sang "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life" and Mrs. Henry Peede sang "The Sweetest Story Ever Told." The traditional wedding marches were used. The ushers lighted the tapers while the guests were assembling.

The bride, who entered on the arm of her brother, Mr. Lamkin Morris, wore a beautiful hydrangea blue eyelet embroidery model with white accessories and a corsage of white gladioli and valley lilies. For something old she carried the handkerchief carried by her great-grandmother on her wedding day one hundred years ago.

Miss Lois Nell Melton, the bride's only attendant, wore a becoming dress of apple blossom pink eyelet with the matching accessories and shoulder corsage of gladioli.

Vallerie Rains served Mr. Wannamaker as best man. The ushers were Elmer Noah and Dwight Johnson. Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Wannamaker left via motor for their honeymoon in south Louisiana. For traveling the bride wore a tailored suit of brown and white.

Miss Wannamaker, a popular member of the younger set, is a graduate of Bastrop High School and attended Louisiana State Normal College of Natchitoches. Mr. Wannamaker is associated with the J. C. Penney Company.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. G. V. Hyams, Miss Sara Gayle Hyams and Henry Hyams of Natchitoches and Mrs. Lewis Coper of Monroe.

Claiming attention was the wedding of Miss Tommie Lou Taylor and Edwin Barr, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Barr, Jonesboro, Tuesday evening, June 23, at 8:30 o'clock at the Jonesboro Baptist church. The Rev. J. W. Buckner, pastor, performed the ceremony. The chancel and the altar were banked with southern smilax interspersed with gardenias and pastel gladioli and carnations. Candelabra holding myriad white cathedral tapers, formed an arch before which the marriage vows were exchanged. Tall white floor standards and small floor baskets, tied with white satin bows and overflowing with lavender and pink hydrangeas, white carnations formed a semi-circle for the wedding party. Miss Frieda Tait, cousin of the bride, lighted the candles. She wore a colonial blue handkerchief linen frock trimmed with Irish lace, and a small corsage of pink carnations. A program of nuptial music was played by Mrs. Dallas Henry. She also rendered the traditional wedding marches. Before the wedding Mrs. Hollis Hearne sang "End of a Perfect Day" and during the ceremony Mrs. Dallas Henry played softly "I Love You Truly." The bride, entering with her father, wore a lovely navy blue sheer ensemble. She wore a black off-the-face hat and harmonizing accessories. Her bouquet was of white gladioli. Her only attendant, Miss Mary Gatlin, was gown in a brown and tan model with matching accessories. She carried blue peonies. Martin Barr served his brother as best man. Ushers were Messrs. # Miss Clara McCoy And Dr. McConnell Marry

Members Of Two Prominent Louisiana Families United In Ceremony At Alto

A wedding characterized by charming simplicity took place Sunday evening, June 7, at the Baptist church in Alto when Miss Clara Ernestine McCoy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McCoy became the bride of Dr. Claude Stokes McConnell, son of Dr. and Mrs. C. E. McConnell of Mangham.

Due to the prominence of the two families sincere and affectionate interest was centered in the nuptial event widely attended by friends and relatives. The picturesque little church was bathed in candlelight and fragrant with the perfume of many flowers gathered from summertime gardens. Myriad cathedral tapers burned in tall white wrought iron candelabra of graduated lengths against a background of southern smilax. Tall white wrought iron standards overflowed with white gladioli.

Pews set aside for members of the family and intimate friends, were marked with fly-away bows of white tulle.

As the guests were being seated, Miss Hermoine Driskell, cousin of the bride, in a flesh marquisette model, rendered a pre-nuptial concert. Included were "Londondary Aires" and "Liebestraume." The soloist, Miss Mary Mhoon Noble, in pale yellow marquisette, sang in splendid voice "O Promise Me" and "Because." She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. C. N. Hatch who wore a flowered net model.

A distinctive feature of the ceremony was the lighting of the candles by the brothers of the bride and groom, Mr. John A. McCoy, Jr., and Dr. James E. McConnell, respectively. The groomsmen were, Mr. W. Lemuel McCoy, cousin of the bride and Mr. Robert Stevenson, close friend of the groom. They all wore dark blue suits with boutonnières of white carnations.

Miss Diane Sartor, cousin of the bride and maid of honor, wore hydrangea blue marquisette, with close fitted bodice trimmed with wide bands of blue chantilly lace. The skirt was long and full.

Miss Mary Virginia McConnell, sister of the groom and Miss Sue Mary Moore were bridesmaids. They wore exact replicas of the gown worn by the maid of honor except a shade lighter in color. Misses Alicia and Joanna McCoy, sisters of the bride, were junior bridesmaids. They wore models of pale blue. They all carried colonial bouquets of mixed garden flowers with streamers of flesh colored tulle.

The bride, walking with her father, wore a superb wedding gown of duchess satin. The bodice shirred to fit was trimmed in self covered buttons down the back to waistline. Self covered buttons also trimmed the full, long, pointed sleeves. The shimmering skirt ended in a train. Her fingertip view of illusion was held to the head by a tulle of pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of orchids and stephanotis. Her only ornament was a diamond lavaliere, which belonged to her mother. For something old she carried an exquisite hand-made lace handkerchief belonging to her paternal great-aunt, the late Mrs. Cornelia Vickers Hemler.

The bridegroom had as his best man his father, Dr. C. E. McConnell. Rev. H. G. Hammons performed the beautiful ceremony during which "Ave Maria" was softly rendered.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents, attended only by relatives and close friends. Mr. and Mrs. McCoy were assisted in receiving by Dr. and Mrs. C. E. McConnell. Miss McCoy wore pink lace with corsage of deeper pink gladioli. Mrs. McConnell wore navy triple sheer with corsage of pink carnations.

Following the cutting of the three tiered wedding cake the bride changed to a traveling ensemble of navy blue with white accessories and corsage of orchids. The couple departed for Biloxi and other points along the coast.

Mesdames D. R. Sartor and C. H. Powers, aunts of the bride, dressed in steel blue chiffon and white marquisette served at the beautifully appointed punch table overlaid with exquisite Chinese cutwork cloth recently brought from the Far East by an aunt. Shell pink gladioli and fern encircled the punch bowl and trails to the four corners. Tall five branched brass candelabra with white tapers formed a beautiful central decor.

The bride's cake was on a separate table overlaid with pineapple cutwork cloth. The cake was encircled with rose geranium leaves sent from Baton Rouge by an aunt and tiny pink sweetheart rose buds.

Misses Mary E. Hicks, and Miss Kathleen McKay in pink marquisette assisted in the courtesies. Miss Hermoine Driskell presided at the book, where guests registered. Others assisting were Mrs. W. T. Sartor, Jr., aunt of the bride, Mrs. W. T. Sartor, Sr., Mrs. H. V. Collins, and Mrs. C. G. Hobgood.

Beautiful silver, crystal, china and linen were on display in a room set apart for the gifts.

Noted among those from out of town were: Mrs. J. D. Hubbs, grandmother of the bride, of Clinton also Mrs. McV. Hubbs and son, McViegh, Mrs. C. H. Powers and son Clarence Harvell, Jr., all of Clinton; Mr. and Mrs. A. L. James, Dr. and Mrs. James E. McConnell, Mr. Robert Stevenson, of Baton Rouge; Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Hobgood of Ruston; Mrs. M. Hays of Jackson, Miss; and many friends from Mangham, Rayville, Monroe, and other points in Louisiana.

What every housewife should know about preparing WAR FARE

★ Almost overnight, homemaking has become a war industry. Building stronger Americans—stronger men and women, boys and girls—is the job.

★ As a wartime homemaker, you can do your part by learning the latest developments of the National Nutritional Program. Information regarding the program is available to help you learn "What every housewife should know about WAR FARE."

★ As your part in the war program the Government wants you to serve your family foods which are high in nutritional value. And if every homemaker will do this, it means a healthier nation—a stronger nation. The Government also wants you to conserve fuel, appliances and materials that are needed for our forces and our allies. The Government wants you to keep your present home equipment in good repair so that it will last for the duration of the war—and even longer.

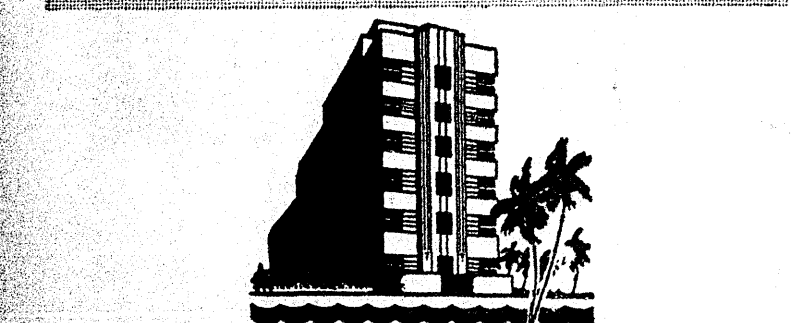

★ So, come to our office and enroll in the United Home Volunteers. As a member you will receive, without cost, authentic, up-to-the-minute booklets that will show you how to save time and money in your shopping; how to make your household equipment last longer; how to avoid waste of food and fuel; how to plan meals for your family that will meet the Government's recommendations for balanced nutrition. It is easy to become a Home Volunteer—it costs you nothing.

Holden And Dee Starred In New Film

Delightful Comedy - Romance Of Love And Laughter Has Fine Cast

CANDY and Mike Stewart, that zestful pair of romantics whose marital woes have delighted millions of Ladies' Home Journal readers, come to the Paramount Theatre screen today only in Columbia's "Meet the Stewarts," said to a mirthful merry-go-round of love and laughter. William Holden and Frances Dee are the carefree co-stars of the film, which is based upon Elizabeth Dunn's stories, adapted to the screen by Karen DeWolf and directed by Alfred E. Green.

In appearing as Candy, the bride without a brain in her head, Miss Dee makes what is said to be one of the most startlingly delightful reversals in "type-casting" of recent years. Hitherto confined to hoop-skirted characterizations, with lavender and old lace literally or figuratively flowing all about her, the beautiful young star now appears as a zestful, refreshingly modern young woman, a girl who knows what she wants and goes after him with joyous disregard for consequences. William Holden, as the "him" in the case, is again able to chalk up an outstanding performance, according to advance report.

"Meet the Stewarts" describes the domestic difficulties of a young couple who hadn't a nickel in their pockets, and a million dollars worth of love in their hearts. They try to live on a budget, but when the bride can't even boil an egg, she's bound to keep her husband in hot water! Complicate their married strife with her family, which thinks Mike is a fortune-hunter, and his family, which thinks Candy is a man-hunter, and "Meet the Stewarts" automatically reaches a crescendo of hilarity particularly appealing to film fans.

In major supporting roles are such well-known comedy character actors as Grant Mitchell and Marjorie Gateson, who appear as Candy's wealthy parents; Ann Gillis and Danny Mummert, as her kid sister and brother; Anne Revere, as Mike's elderly sister, who has her doubts about Candy's capabilities; and Roger Clark, who is seen effectively as the innocent cause for a free-for-all which finally resolves all difficulties.

Blondie Hit Here Today At Capitol

'Blondie's Blessed Event' Is Latest Of Bumstead Family Films

"BLONDIE'S Blessed Event," latest in the fun-filled Columbia comedy series based upon Chic Young's popular cartoon, opens today at the Capitol theatre. As its title implies, "Blondie's Blessed Event" is concerned with a little stranger in the Bumstead menage, a baby girl named Cookie. Cookie's forthcoming appearance was heralded in "Blondie Goes to College," the new film's equally delightful predecessor.

Penny Singleton, Arthur Lake and Larry Simms return in familiar roles, and other members of the cast include Jonathan Hale, Danny Mummert and Hans Conried. Frank R. Strayer and Robert Sparks, respectively director and producer of the "Blondie" comedies, again share laurels for the most recent hit, according to Hollywood report.

Movie-goers aware of Dagwood's penchant for trouble will fully appreciate his latest domestic dilemma. A

In technicolor, "My Gal Sal," occupies the Paramount screen for three days starting Monday, with Rita Hayworth, Victor Mature, John Sutton and Carole Landis. Among the songs featured are "My Gal Sal," "Me and My Pella," "On the Banks of the Wabash," "The Convict and the Bird," and other tuneful, catchy songs. Aiding the gaiety of the technicolor extravaganza are James Gleason, Phil Silvers, Walter Catlett and Mona Maris.

"The Wife Takes a Flyer" is the Paramount attraction for Saturday. Starring Joan Bennett and Franchot Tone, the cast includes Ailyn Joslyn, Cecil Cunningham and Roger Clark. Story in one line: Husband takes a trip—wife takes a flyer—flyer takes advantage!

baby girl at the Bumsteads automatically means a man-sized riot on the screen, and where Dagwood is concerned, a man-sized riot automatically ends with everybody happy!

When the stork arrives at the Bumsteads, Dagwood's boss gives him the bird—because Dagwood's latest idea is the construction of small homes out of potato peelings! When Blondie brings home the little stranger named Cookie, Dagwood brings home a stranger named George, a would-be playwright with an appetite!

Penny Singleton, former musical comedy star whose appearances as Blondie have won her sensational screen and radio fame, is said to top in charm and effectiveness even her previous performances. Lake, as Dagwood, and Larry Simms, as Baby Dumpling, are equally fine. Hale continues as Dagwood's harassed boss, Mr. Dithers, and young Danny Mummert is the child prodigy from next door. Conried, a comparative newcomer to the screen, is said to be a scintillant laugh-getter as the hungry author.

Prince Valiant

IN THE DAYS OF
by
HAROLD R. FOSTER

Synopsis: STILL FOLLOWING THEIR QUEST FOR THE MISSING ROBERT, LORD OF GAIFORTE, PRINCE VALIANT AND SIR GAWAIN RIDE OUT TO SEARCH THE HAUNTED BLACKTOWER, SCENE OF TERRIBLE CRIMES IN THE PAST.

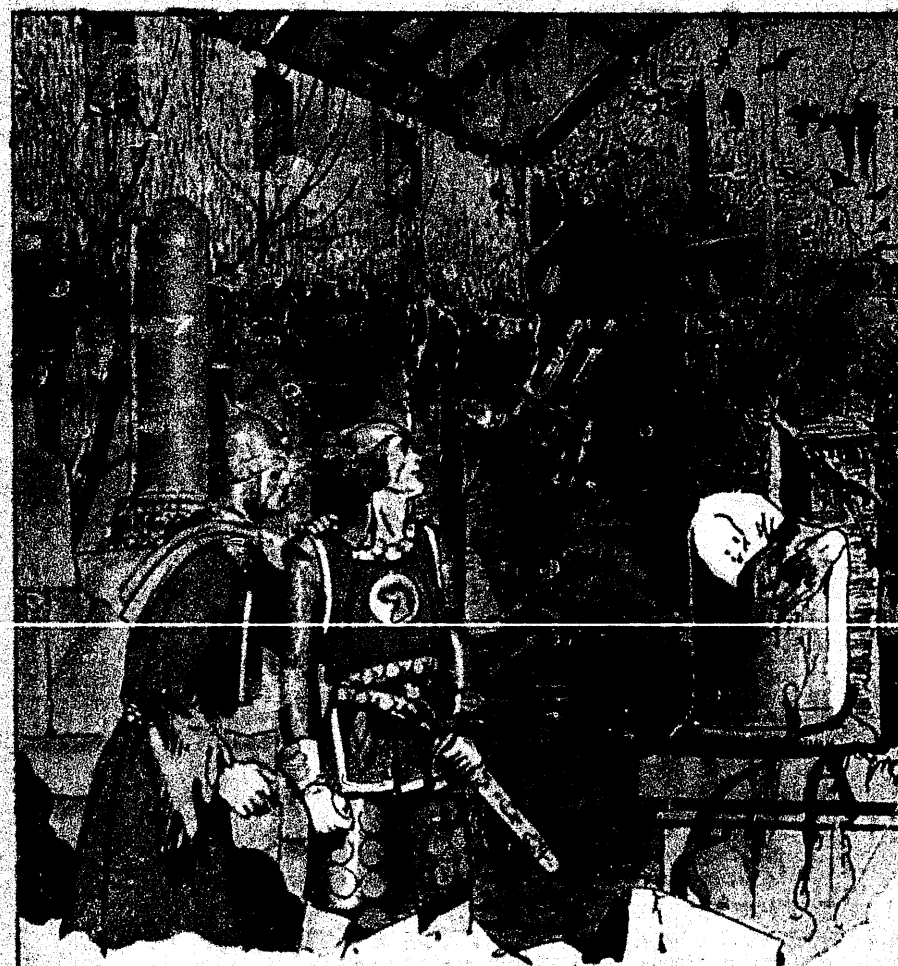

THE ROAD THROUGH THE SOMBER FOREST IS OVERGROWN WITH WEEDS AND BRUSH AND CHOKED BY FALLEN TREES.

IT IS NEARLY DUSK WHEN THEY REACH THE RUINED GATES ... AND HERE THEIR SQUIRES STOP, STUBBORNLY REFUSING TO SET FOOT IN THE ACCURSED PLACE.

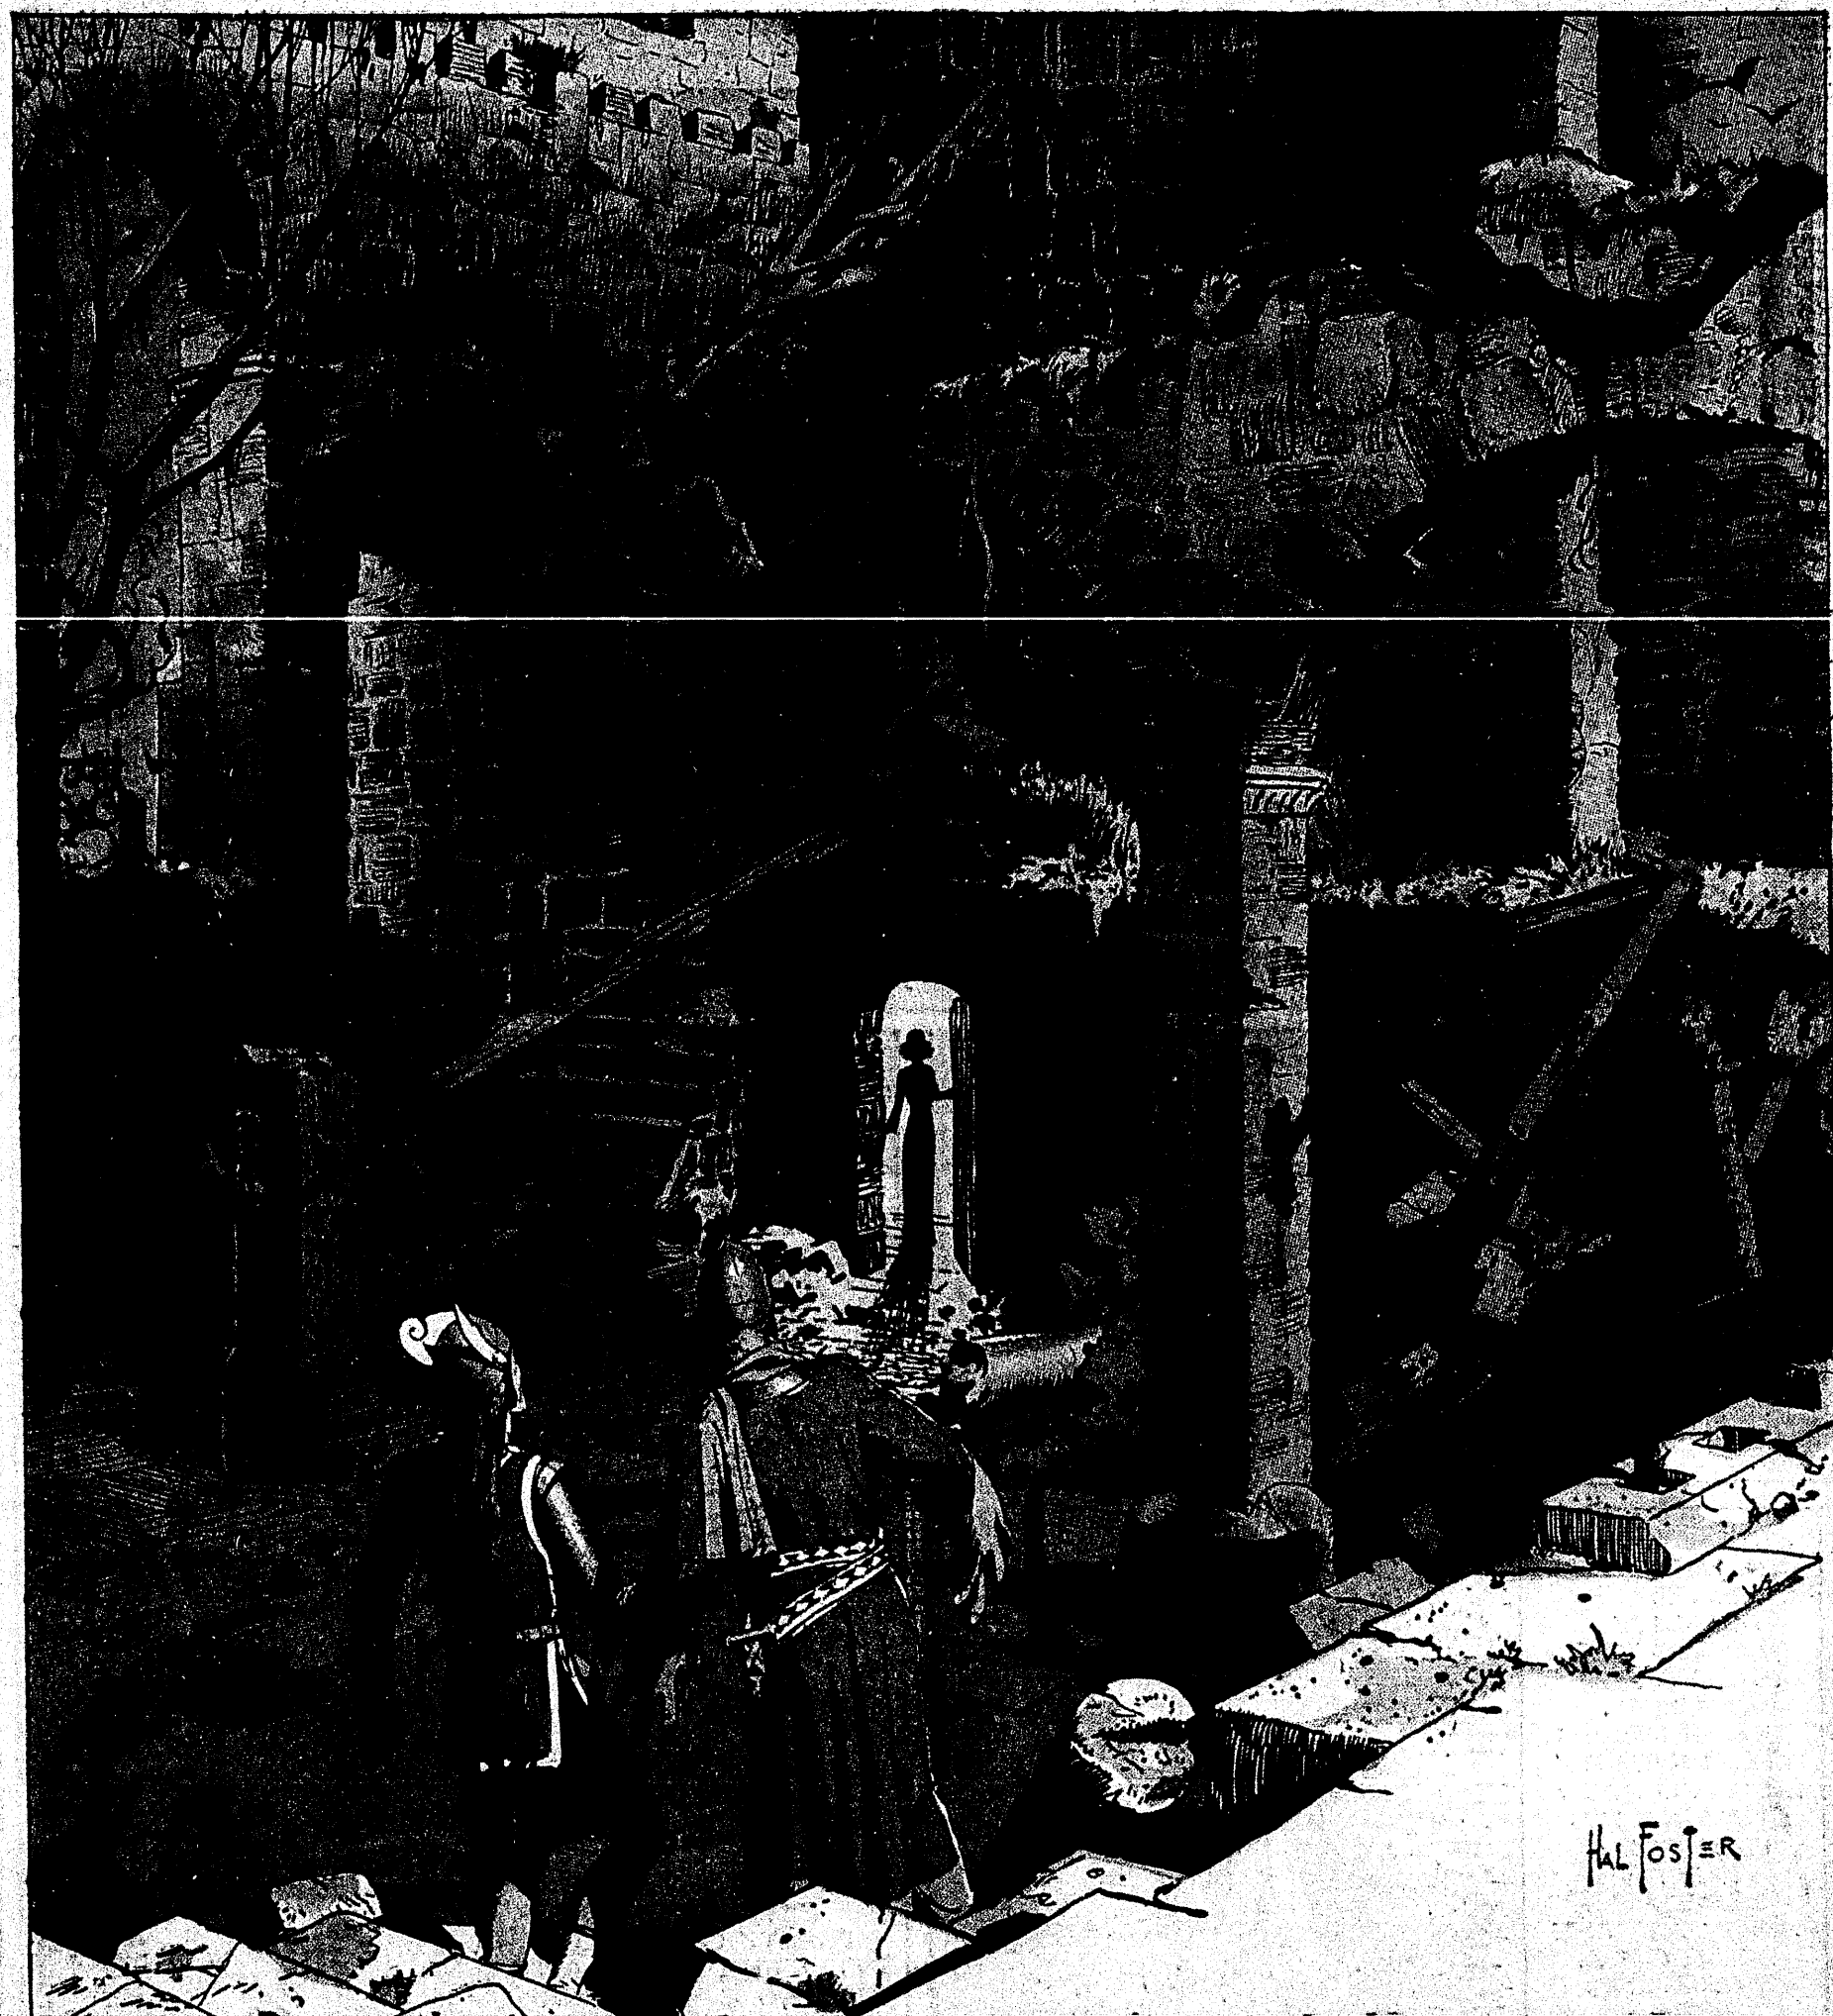

LEAVING THE HORSES, THEY ENTER THE COURTYARD AND APPROACH THE TOWER.

HIGH OVERHEAD THE WIND MOANS AMONG THE CHARRED RAFTERS AND BATS DART SILENTLY IN THE GATHERING GLOOM.

THEN ALL THE ECHOES AWAKE AND RUSH TO AND FRO, AS A TERRIBLE SCREAM SHATTERS THE SILENCE. "WHO'S THERE?" SHOUTS VAL. GRADUALLY THE ECHOES SETTLE BACK.....

Hal Foster

..... SILENCE SHUTS DOWN LIKE A THREAT. THEY CAN HEAR THE RAPID BEATING OF THEIR HEARTS. THEN, IN A FAR CORNER, A POINT OF LIGHT APPEARS; A LOCK CLICKS AND A DOOR SWINGS WIDE. SILHOUETTED AGAINST THE RED GLOW, THE FIGURE OF A YOUNG GIRL STANDS, WAITING.

NEXT WEEK - The Vampire.

JUNGLE JIM

BY ALEX RAYMOND

FINDING HIS CHINESE LIEUTENANT, SING LEE, CAPTURED BY A JAPANESE PATROL, JIM DOGS THEIR TRAIL, AWAITING HIS OPPORTUNITY TO STRIKE---

JIM'S MOMENT FINALLY COMES WHEN THE ENEMY PATROL STARTS TO FORD A STREAM. JIM TAKES A DEEP BREATH, EXHALES HALF OF IT, HOLDS HIS SIGHTS STEADY ON HIS TARGET AND SLOWLY SQUEEZES OFF HIS SHOTS---

Copy, 1942, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.

THE TRAPPED TROOPS BEAT A FLOUNDERING RETREAT TOWARD SHORE--BUT THE WATER SLOWS THEIR MOVEMENTS, AIDING JIM'S MARKSMANSHIP.

AS THE WATERS CLOSE OVER THE LAST ENEMY SOLDIER, JIM EMERGES FROM HIS HIDING-PLACE AND MAKES HIS WAY TOWARD SING LEE---

6-28-42.

AS JIM GOES TO THE AID OF HIS DAZED AND EXHAUSTED LIEUTENANT, A JAP SOLDIER STEALTHILY PULLS HIMSELF ASHORE A FEW YARDS DOWNSTREAM!

To Be Continued.

Flash Gordon

Reprinted by permission of the publisher

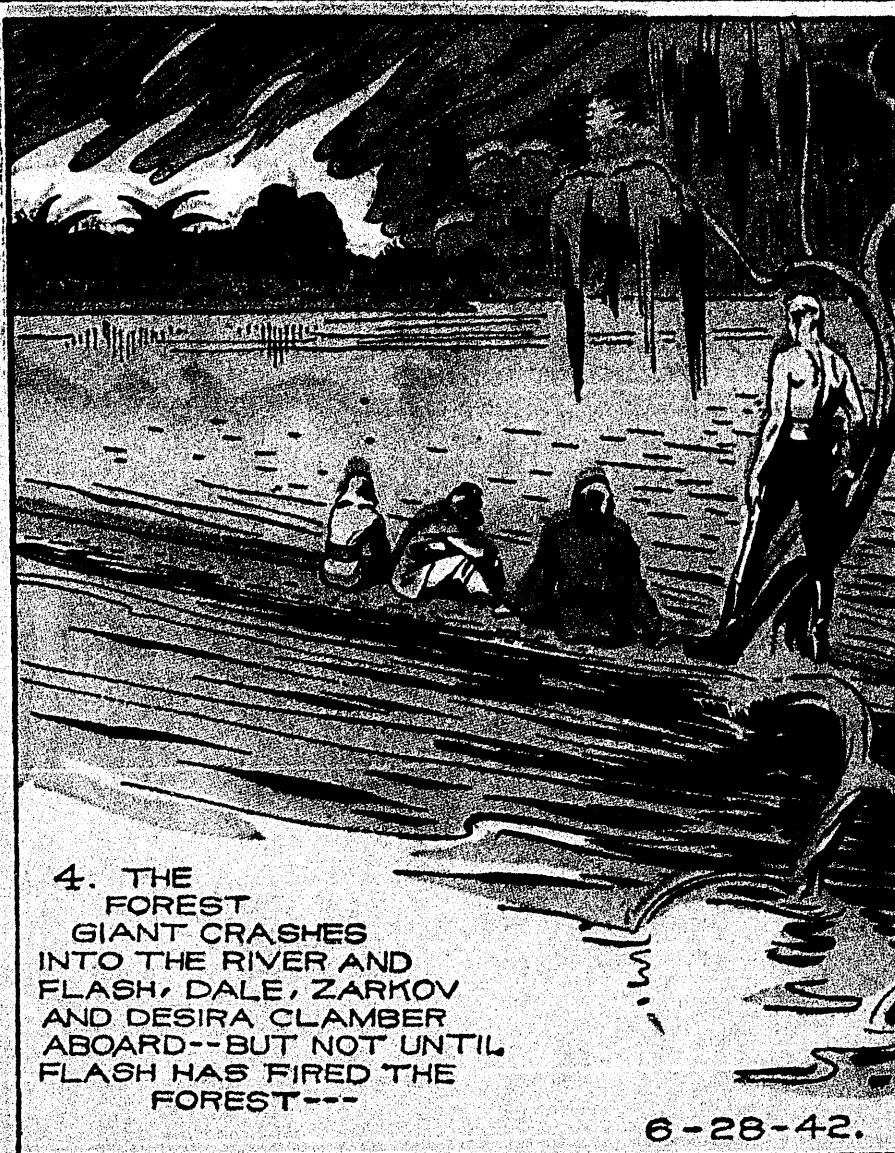

1. THEIR FLIGHT FROM BRAZOR AND HIS BLOOD-WOLVES BEING ARRESTED BY A STREAM, FLASH AND HIS FRIENDS FORCE THEIR SHARP-CLAWED GRYPHS UP INTO A GREAT TREE AND THENCE, BY WAY OF ITS WIDE-SPREADING BRANCHES, TO THE OPPOSITE BANK.

2. BUT THE SLAVERING BLOOD-WOLVES CANNOT BE DIVERTED FROM THE TRAIL--THEY LEAD THE HUNTERS TO THE SAME TREE!

3. A MIGHTY RIVER FINALLY BLOCKS THE FUGITIVES' ESCAPE. FLASH FREES THEIR WEARY MOUNTS AND, DRAWING HIS RAY-GUN, STARTS BLAZING AWAY AT THE BASE OF A TOWERING TREE---

4. THE FOREST GIANT CRASHES INTO THE RIVER AND FLASH, DALE, ZARKOV AND DESIRA CLAMBER ABOARD--BUT NOT UNTIL FLASH HAS FIRED THE FOREST---

6-28-42.

BATTLE TO THE DEATH

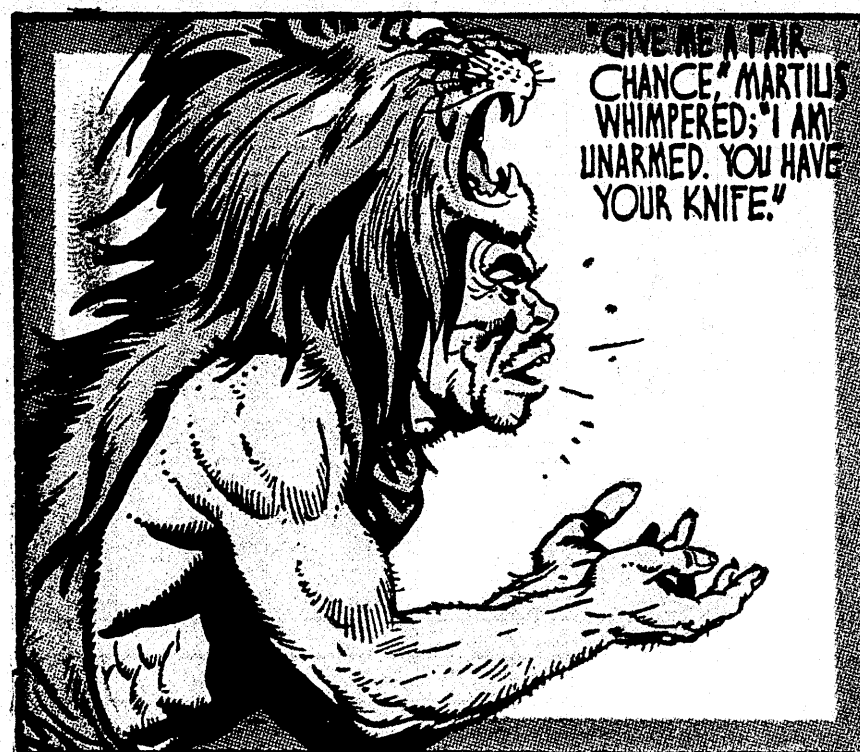

OLGA LED TARZAN TOWARD A HUGE AIRPLANE. "THAT'S HOW WE'LL GET AWAY," SHE CRIED HAPPILY.

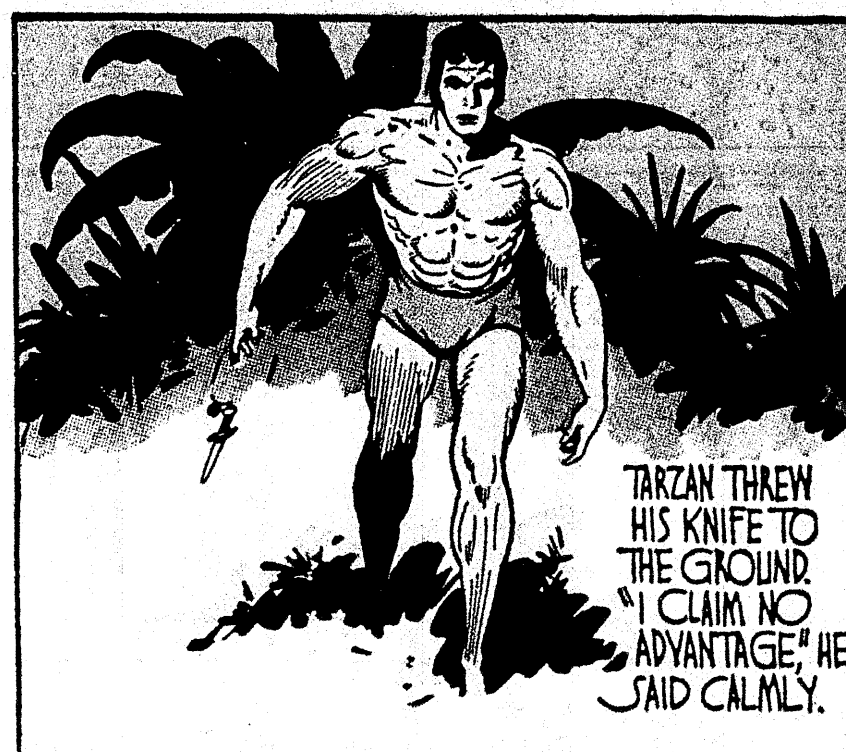

BUT THERE THEY FOUND MARTIUS, WHO HAD COME TO WRECK THE MACHINE AND BLOCK THEIR ESCAPE.

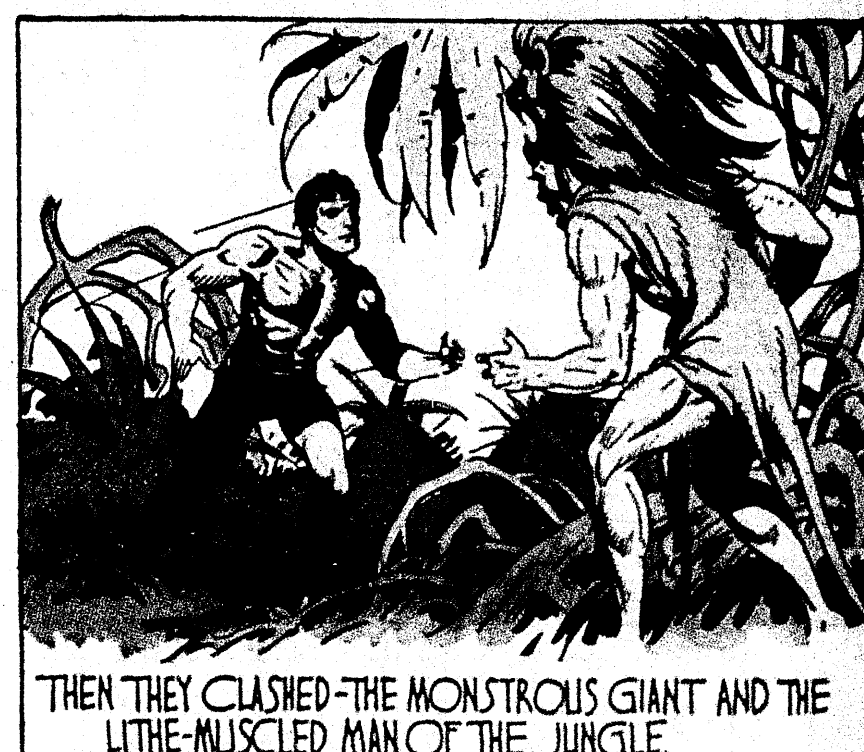

"THIS VALLEY WILL KNOW NO PEACE WHILE YOU LIVE," TARZAN SAID GRIMLY. "I INTEND TO DESTROY YOU!"

"GIVE ME A FAIR CHANCE," MARTIUS WHIMPERED. "I AM UNARMED. YOU HAVE YOUR KNIFE."

TARZAN THREW HIS KNIFE TO THE GROUND. "I CLAIM NO ADVANTAGE," HE SAID CALMLY.

THEN THEY CLASHED—THE MONSTROUS GIANT AND THE LITHE-MUSCLED MAN OF THE JUNGLE.

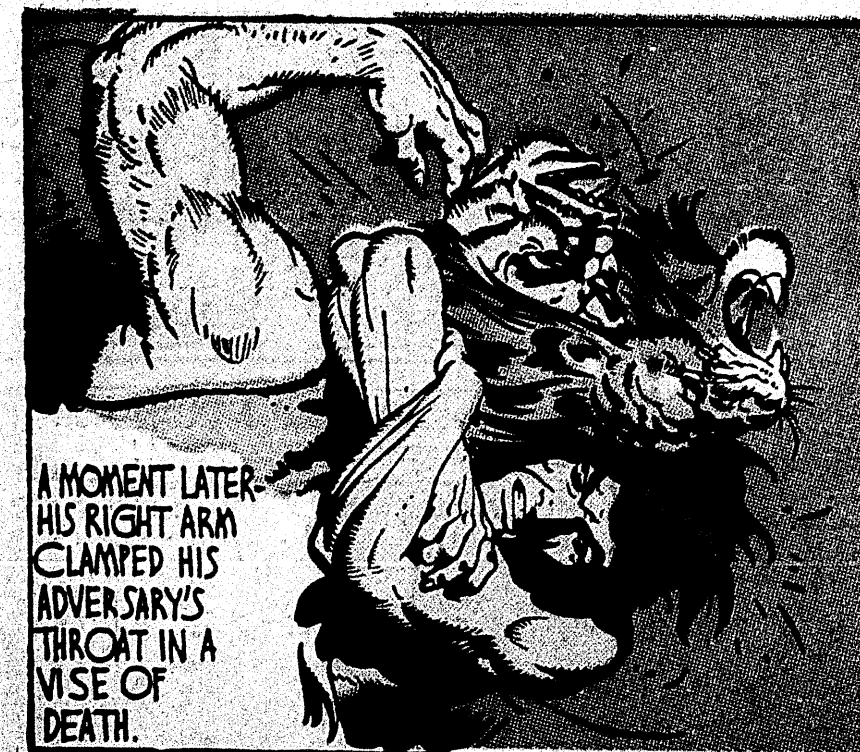

MARTIUS WAS CONFIDENT OF VICTORY BY SHEER BRUTE POWER. AND NOW OLGA, FEARING FOR TARZAN'S LIFE, PICKED UP THE KNIFE TO STRIKE MARTIUS. "GO BACK!" TARZAN SHOUTED. "I SHALL KILL HIM FAIRLY!"

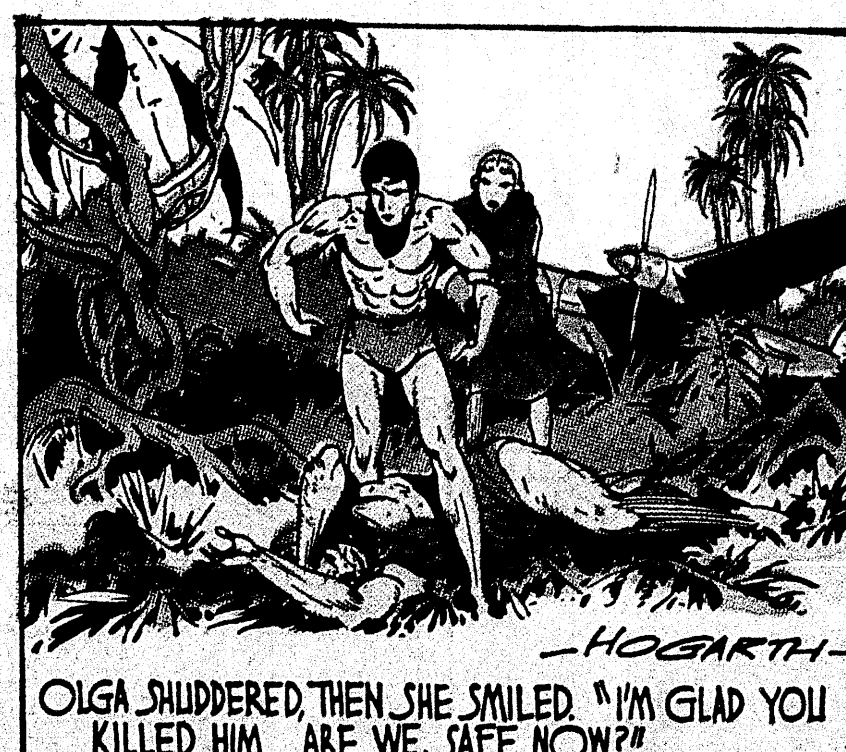

THEN, IN A LIGHTNING MOVE, THE AGILE TARZAN TOSSED THE UNGAINLY CREATURE OVER A SHOULDER.

Copyright 1942 Edgar Rice Burroughs, Inc. — Tarzan, Tarzan, Tarzan, Inc. Dist. by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.

A MOMENT LATER HIS RIGHT ARM CLAMPED HIS ADVERSARY'S THROAT IN A VISE OF DEATH.

—HOGARTH—
OLGA SHUDDERED, THEN SHE SMILED. "I'M GLAD YOU KILLED HIM. ARE WE SAFE NOW?"

AS IF IN ANSWER, WILD, FIERCE CRIES SOUNDED FROM THE JUNGLE BEHIND THEM.
